Fine Report Card at John Witherspoon: Student Suspensions Down, Morale High

"To me, John Witherspoon wasn't a bad place when I came here -- I don't know why people felt the way they did," smiled middle school principal William Johnson this week, "but now, it's more than 'a good place.'"

The principal is finishing his second year at the middle school and he's a proud and happy man.

Only seven students have been suspended this year, compared to 45 last year and 90 to 100 in schools of similar size elsewhere in the country.

Student and teacher absenteeism is down.

Overdue books aren't much of a problem any more. Student Library Council members work in the library, grab their friends and say, "Hey, get that overdue book in!" And they do.

"We need another bike rack." "We need to move tether - ball so it's not in the way." "We want to DO something...."

It's the new Student Cabinet talking. Members are elected from each "house" to sit in Principal Johnson's Cabinet.

"I wasn't sure a student organization was needed -- we aren't a high - school -- instead, I get students to advise me, and the Cabinet is great for this. Yes, we did need another bike rack and a re-located tether - ball. Some of the things they wanted to do were -- just too fantastic, so we found something we really could do and we had a very successful talent show. I think we'll probably do it yearly."

"Of course, they complained about the food. But the food here is good. They said we didn't have enough playground equipment. But we have....." and he shrugs with a smile.

A list of 25 accomplishments forwarded to Superintendent Paul Houston includes report cards (the school didn't have them before); an Introduction to Vocations Program; "mathletes" for students who want to flex their math muscles; curriculum meetings to bring present curriculum guides up to date.

"We didn't have a real curriculum," he explains. "Each teacher or each house did what that teacher wanted to do. Teacher liked astronomy, we'd do stars. You'd end up knowing a lot about stars but no math."

"All the teachers contributed their ideas, and I contributed what other middle - schools do, and we developed a curriculum for the whole school." John Witherspoon has 715 students, down from over 800 when Mr. Johnson came in 1976.

"Princeton is a transient town -- you must provide students with an education they can take with them. You need standardization, but you have Princeton's uniqueness, and that's the exciting part."

Uniqueness? New Jersey law requires a sixth - grade unit on the community and New Jersey government.

"And the GOVERNOR lives here!" the principal exclaims. "You've got John Witherspoon signing the Declaration of Independence! You've got a high school where the SAT scores didn't go down!"

Mr. Johnson says with pride that John Witherspoon has seven major subjects: the basic four (English, social studies, math, science) plus music and foreign languages (French, Spanish).

Borough's Plans Show That Garage Will Become Fully Self-Supporting

"We all want to live in a village and wear three-cornered hats and knee britches, but we can't," library trustee Jack Hammer told a Township Hall audience last Wednesday.

He and others had come to talk with Township Committee about the juxtaposition of the Public Library and proposed parking garage. It's the Borough's garage, but the Township pays two-thirds of the cost of the library and is watching closely the development of garage plans.

Since last Wednesday's meeting, garage architect John Fujiwara and library-expansion architect Thaddeus Longstreth have conferred. They have also met with a few Borough officials and the library trustee's building committee. This was the outcome:

- The stem of the parking garage "T" (see model, page 2) will now be 70 feet wide instead of 120.

- The main garage section -- the bar of the "T" -- has been moved back as far as it can go: to the property line of the parking lot.

Formerly, it was set ten feet in from that line.

- There will be 30 to 35 feet between the south wall of the expanded library, and shops on the north side of the "T" stem.

- There will be 25 to 30 feet between the rear of existing Spring Street stores, and shops on the south side of the "T" stem.

"The library feels comfortable with this," reported Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley after the meetings. "It opens up the space between the garage and Rosso's Cafe on Spring Street, and offices across Spring, where the Benson Building will be."

The Borough hasn't yet heard from Public Service about the utility's willingness to sell some land east of the library bordering on Wiggins.

"This would give us access out to Wiggins Street, and it's critical," the mayor told reporters on Monday. "I'm optimistic that we can work something out with Public Service."

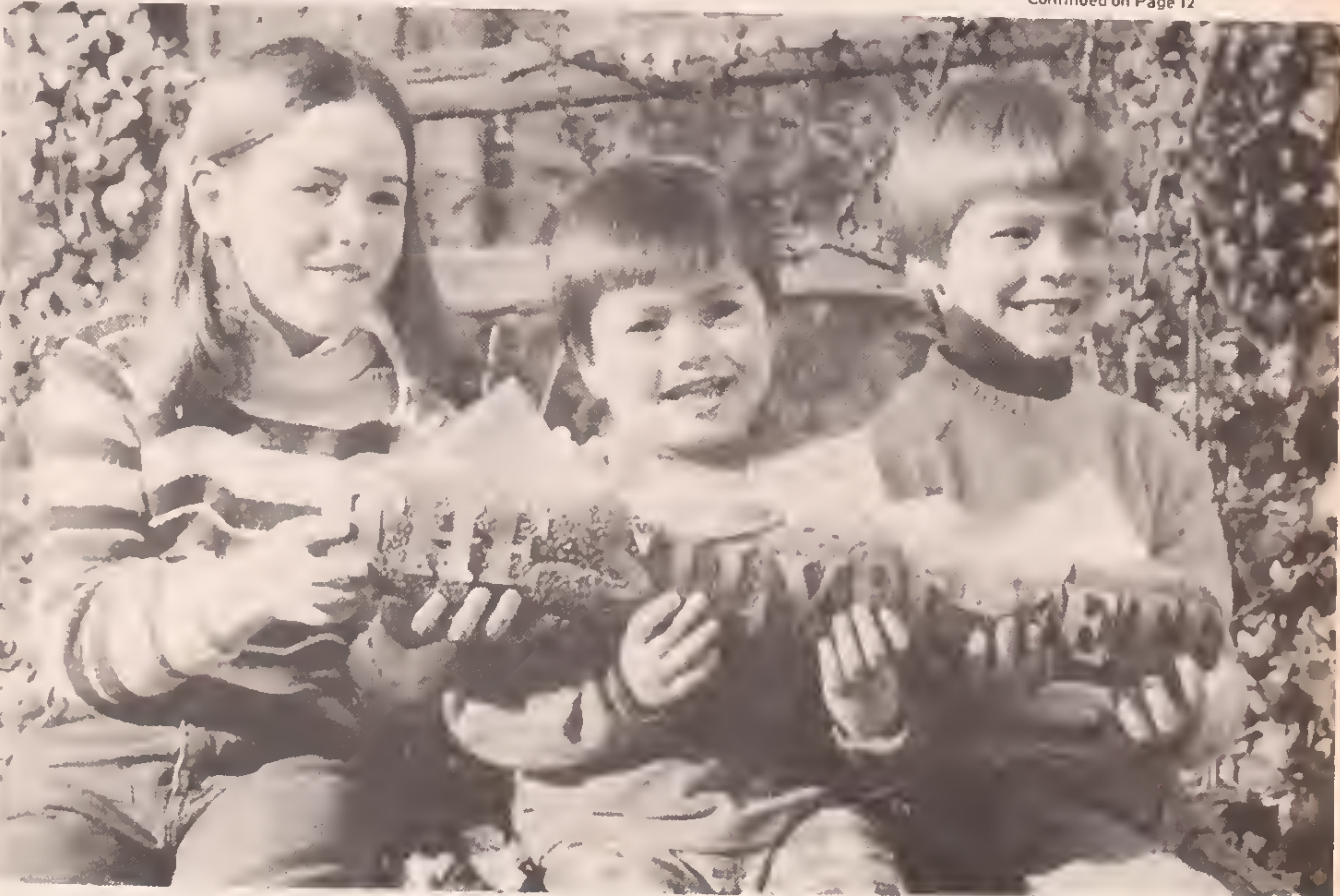

Traffic has always been the mayor's prime concern. He said this week that Mr. Fujiwara plans to make a traffic study before summer.

The mayor expressed the hope that parking can still be made on Witherspoon in front of the library, perhaps on a "loading zone" basis so that parents can pick up children. Another traffic problem, he added, is providing room for trucks servicing the new "T" stem shops.

Within the next two weeks, the Borough will ask the state to designate the garage a "self-liquidating" project -- one that pays for itself without taxpayer support. Such a designation by the Department of Community Affairs would mean that the Borough could finance construction outside the municipality's debt limit.

Having new commercial space around the stem of the "T" strengthens the garage's ability to support itself, the mayor pointed out. Narrowing the stem, incidentally, has reduced that space from 12,000 to 10,000 square feet.

LIBRARY, GARAGE, SHOPS: This model of the proposed parking garage shows a remodeled library (left), with the south wall pushed out to enlarge the children's room. The main garage is at the rear, its two sections connected by a bridge across Spring Street. Existing Spring Street stores are parallel to the terraced stem of the T-shaped garage. At Witherspoon Street (across the bottom of the model), the stem would be two stories high, terraced back to three, then four, then to the main five-story garage. Shops and stores are planned for the three sides of this stem at street level. It has not yet been decided whether to use the upper stories of the terraced stem for cars.

Both garage and the expansion of Palmer Square may reach the Planning Board's agenda at the same time — for the July meeting. Mayor Cawley says he is jockeying with Princeton University to obtain priority over Palmer Square, Inc. on that agenda. The mayor hopes the garage will be considered at the June 12 meeting of the Environmental Design Review Committee.

"The garage can't start without Planning Board approval," stated Township Mayor Josie Hall Wednesday, when someone mentioned a hoped-for October groundbreaking, "and knowing the Planning Board, I have my doubts about an October start."

The mayor said she was sure the garage was needed, and said she didn't mean to imply, by placing discussion of the garage on the agenda, that the Township was not supporting it.

The Township's Role. She announced that she had asked Township Zoning Board attorney Ivan Bash whether the Township could legally participate in discussions about the garage, and she reported his opinion that the Township is an "interested party" in appearances before the EDHC and Planning Board.

Although Mayor Hall asked whether meetings held by the two architects, library and trustees and Borough officials were open to the public, no Township representatives asked to be present, according to Mayor Cawley.

Committee member William Cherry, who had been restricted by Mayor Cawley at a meeting the previous week, expressed his views to the Township audience. He had heard a rumor, he said, that no environmental impact statement was to be prepared and he characterized this as "irresponsible." He also said the "T" form "enhances the shopping-center activities of the area and is a most damaging, wasteful use of space."

Conrad Snowden, president of the library's trustees, acknowledged that the parking garage affected the whole business community and should therefore, be considered by the mayor, but he expressed worries about picking up children, the space between garage and library and the "pleasant atmosphere" of the present library.

Business Upturn Sought. "Parking is a major problem, and the central business district is not doing well," said Everett Garretson, owner of H.P. Clayton's. "Borough Council is an enlightened group, it has studied this garage for a long time and sees a need to strengthen the center of town."

Township and Borough aims are the same, Mr. Garretson observed, adding that he would welcome consolidation of the two municipalities.

"There is no dividing line between us," he said. "Foster the spirit of compromise, and endorse the garage!"

One questioner asked what will happen when the library needs to expand again. Present expansion plans call for the addition of a third floor. Mr. Longstreth said the library can't be expanded beyond present expansion plans.

Mr. Cherry asked whether it would be possible to move the whole library building to another location, but Mr. Longstreth said it would be "very expensive."

".....and hard to maneuver the building along Witherspoon Street," he said.

Remodeling Project at Princeton High School To Begin in September with Work on New Gym

Construction on the new gym — right after Labor Day. That's the hoped-for start of remodeling the high school, architects said Thursday. They presented final detailed plans at a high school PTO meeting.

Highlights:

- Entering the main, tower door: a new door will be cut through to the present girls' locker room, which will be converted to Student Services, space for two guidance offices, conferences. All other guidance offices will be in part of the old girls' — or "small" — gym. Present scattered guidance offices will be classrooms.

- The rest of the old small gym, plus the boys' locker room, will become the ground floor of the new media center, with TV studios, audio-visual materials, darkroom, storage.

- A new stair will lead to the second level of the media center whose new floor will stretch across the middle of the present old gym, sustained by support structures going down into the ground to carry the weight of bookshelves.

- From this new floor, four steps down (ramp, also) will lead to the old library: study carrels for 36 students, rooms for reference books, periodicals, tables, chairs. The circulation desk will remain where it is.

- The original 1929 library, with its dark-paneled wood, will have a raised platform and will become a lecture room. Built-in shelves and windows will remain.

- The auditorium will have two aisles instead of the present three, with seat rows extending to the walls. The stage will bow forward and there will be an orchestra pit. New seats will be installed. If there is enough money, the balcony will get new seats also. The auditorium will seat 515.

- State regulations prohibit the present library stair arrangement. At the bottom of the present stairs near the main office, there will be a right-hand turn and a new platform leading into what is now Assistant Principal Florence Burke's office, which will become a kind of lobby. A new outer door, in harmony with the Gothic look of this part of the building, will be cut through, allowing exit either through it, or through the main tower door.

- The present art room will become the math-science interest center, with a lab. for independent study, individual desks for teachers, a testing room, work tables, chalkboard. An opened-up art area will be made where media materials are now kept.

- The English-social studies interest center will be where the home ec. rooms now are. Language areas will remain the same.

- A new entry to the gyms — the present big gym and the gym to be constructed on the Walnut Lane side of the school — will eliminate the present connecting corridor from the classrooms. There will be a ticket booth, a ramp leading from the back parking area, and storage between the two gymnasiums. The new gym will be without windows.

- Home ec and early childcare will be where the boys' locker rooms now are. The old team locker rooms under the present small gym will be for storage only. Locker rooms will be under the new gym, and one of the building's two elevators will serve these lower-level locker rooms.

- Four back classrooms will be converted to two biology labs, and one horticulture lab, across the hall from physics and chemistry. Science and math classrooms are clustered together.

- A new ramp will lead into the present shop area, and the metal shop will be given a better layout. The controversial power lift is a so-called "add alternate;" it will be built if there is enough money.

- Drainage is a problem. A retention basin, approximately 60 feet across, sloped like a saucer, will be built at the corner of Walnut Lane and the northern driveway entrance.

Work on the roof will start this summer. The new gym will be finished in ten months — by early summer of 1979.

The media center, outside doors, lockers, science labs, window replacement, the math-science interest center, typing-computer-electronics center work — all will be done in the summer of 1979.

attend Johnson Park; Littlebrook and Johnson Park "sending districts" within the Witherspoon Street area will be phased out by having families new to the school system who move into the area, or families now living there whose first child is eligible for school, send their children to nearby Community Park.

Sally McFarlane, member of the citizens committee named by Superintendent Paul Houston to review the short-range implications of declining enrollment, protested the vote. She said the committee's original recommendation was only that "the board should consider the feasibility of phasing out."

"Littlebrook and Johnson Park 'sending districts' will eventually all end up at Community Park school and this is a major change for the school system," Mrs. McFarlane said. "Our committee wasn't told to get into major changes."

To a query from board member Rosalind Frisch who wanted to know whether parents had been consulted, Mrs. McFarlane said that since the citizens committee wasn't assigned to study major changes, members hadn't gone to the community for comments.

The changes will drop Community Park enrollment from 289 to 262 and give it 11.6 percent black students; increase Johnson Park to 226 and give it 14 percent black enrollment; assign Littlebrook 13.3 percent black students and 7.1 percent for Riverside.

Mrs. Frisch reported that a state official to whom she talked was displeased with the changes "and will come around to see us in September."

Board member Hannah Fox observed that state guidelines are often "furry" and inconsistent.

Mrs. Edna ("Tady") Hunter was named "Volunteer of the Year" — a new board award — for organizing and writing the weekly "Highlights" newspaper column; tutoring; helping the PHS Choir's Spoleto fund drive and participating in various PTO activities.

206? WORKING ON IT

Patch Now, More Later. Drainage is still going to be a problem, warned Township Traffic Officer Sgt. Anthony Nini, reporting last Wednesday to Committee about road work on Route 206. The state has written the Township that "total reconstruction" will be undertaken in about two years, and the present patch job is supposed to smooth things over until then.

Bhagwan Dass, assistant engineer, told Committee he thinks completion of the jug-handle on Route 206 will solve some drainage problems. Incidentally, Sgt. Nini reported that in one telephone call to the State Department of Transportation, he was shunted to nine different DOT divisions.

Since state entomologists have ruled that only Sevin can be used against gypsy moths, the Township has decided against participating in this year's spray program. Sevin kills bees.

"It's the worst road in Princeton," declared Committee member David Blair, agreeing with a group of residents who want Herrontown Road and parts of Poor Farm Road paved.

Heavy Use by Buses. F.K. Hagios, who lives at 52 Herrontown Lane, explained that Herrontown and Poor Farm are used heavily by school buses. He questioned whether fire trucks or a heavy ambulance could have made it through the winter mud, and said his own car has required

The Man said that he might provide a shower or two Wednesday - totally forgetting that we've had enough for quite a while - but that the rest of the week should be dry and very warm.

Normal rainfall for May was exceeded in the first half of the month - last week alone brought about four inches. Now it will grow hot for a while, after nearly five months of sub-normal temperatures in 1978. The deficiency in degrees since January 1 is virtually equal to the corresponding period of the previous 12 months, and that was caused by one of the coldest winters on record. The past winter wasn't as cold, but the current spring has been much cooler than usual.

four front - end alignments in a short space of time.

Mayor Josie Hall, who reminded Mr. Hagios several times that Drakes Corner and Cherry Valley near her own home, aren't very good either, suggested that recent Planning Board approval of research facilities on Mt. Lucas has changed the circulation situation in the area.

Mr. Hagios told Committee that when he protested the condition of the muddy roads to Township Engineer Joseph Hodak, he was told "You people expect to get services up there, don't you?" He also asked whether the fire chief knew how far it was to the nearest hydrant, and Mayor Hall told him fire officials had been questioned by the Planning Board before development approval.

Discussion of the problem has been scheduled for Committee's June 21 meeting, and attorney Gordon Griffin warned the residents that they might have to pay for the paving themselves.

Township By-Passed. "As usual, we're the stepchild," remarked Mayor Hall. The Township had asked for its own meeting with the state on plans for I-95, but the list of meeting places excludes Princeton Township. Meetings have been scheduled for this Tuesday in Hopewell, this Thursday at the Montgomery Township High School; Monday, June 5 at the Hillsborough High School; Tuesday, June 6 at the Franklin Township Municipal Building and Wednesday, June 7, at the Kirby Arts Center on the campus of the Lawrenceville School.

Meetings start at 7 with an information session, followed at 8 by the formal state presentations.

A Township representative was scheduled to attend the Hopewell meeting and place in the record a letter recording the Township's protest that no meeting was scheduled in Princeton.

THREE LOSE LICENSES

In Township Traffic Court. Three Princeton area drivers had their licenses suspended last week in Township traffic court.

James Emerson, 255 Hendrickson Drive, Princeton Junction, lost his for 90 days and was fined $210 for drunken driving. He was ordered to attend the Princeton AA program for six months. In addition, he was fined $30 for driving an unregistered car.

Michael W. Waite, 28 Talbot Lane, surrendered his license for 90 days and was fined $110 for leaving the scene of an accident. A second charge of careless driving cost him $35.

Christopher R. Sparrow, 225 Hun Road, had his license suspended for 15 days and was fined $35 for reckless driving, which was amended to careless driving. He and Mr. Waite must undergo a re-examination by the Motor Vehicle Department, as will Guiseppe Castorina, Rocky Hill - Blawenburg Road, Skillman, who was fined $35 for leaving an accident scene and failing to report it.

Anthony M. Mahoney, 25 Berkeley Place, Cranford, was fined $38 for speeding; Faith Ward, 912 Cherry Valley Road, $35 for a stop sign violation, and Susan Godfrey, 81 Mountain Avenue, $30 for driving on a permit without the presence of a licensed driver.

In Borough traffic court Monday, Georgeann Palmer of Lawrenceville and Donald Johnson of Princeton were each fined $30 for careless driving.

Joan Toner, 39 Moran Avenue, paid $23 for speeding, while Gary Carnevale, 106 Leabrook Lane, paid $15, overdue inspection.

MAN ELECTROCUTED

In Montgomery Township. A power outage affecting 70 homes in the Belle Mead - Griggstown Road area Sunday cost the life of a Public Service repairman. Contact with a 13,000 - volt line took the life of Robert W. Mayer, 42, of Yardville.

Mr. Mayer and fellow employees of the utility company were assigned to repair a five - eighths inch aluminum strand power line that had parted on the road in the vicinity of Green Drive and Harlingen Road. He had just climbed a ladder to the problem area on the electrical line and was clearing branches when he suffered the fatal shock.

Members of his crew and the Montgomery Township First Aid Squad attempted cardiovascular resuscitation without success. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Princeton Medical Center.

His wife and two sons survive.

Memorial Day Parade to Be Held Friday Evening

Amidst the rolls and flourishes of drum and bugle corps and marching bands, Princeton area veterans and guests will march down Nassau Street to the Washington Battle Monument this Friday to honor the nation's war dead. The greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce expects to distribute 500 miniature American flags to children along the parade route.

The parade will form on Princeton Avenue at 6:15 and begin its procession on Nassau Street at 7. The ceremony at the Battle Monument is expected to include Governor Byrne, Borough and Township officials, and the commanders of Princeton's two American Legion posts, Lester Anderson of Post 76 and Howard Graham of Post 218. Tom Ward will be master of ceremonies.

In charge of laying the memorial wreath will be Robert Ball of Post 218 and Thomas J. Lynch of Post 76, both charter members of their posts.

"In our fast changing world ever ready to ignore the past, Memorial Day remains a day of memory," said D. Don Richards, general chairman of the Memorial Day program. "It is a day on which we pause to recall the high cost of our freedom and to pay tribute to those who, over many generations, have secured our nation for us."

As part of the Memorial Day weekend observation, members of the two American Legion posts have placed more than 1,000 American flags on the graves of veterans interred in Princeton's cemeteries.

Firing Squads and Taps. On Sunday at approximately 9:45 a.m. firing squads and taps will be presented at the Princeton Cemetery, near the flag pole, and at St. Paul's Church cemetery. St. Paul's Church military memorial mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m.

The order of march for the parade Friday evening calls for Borough Police Chief Michael F. Carnevale and the police color guard to lead the procession, followed by Township Chief Fred M. Porter and another color guard.

Elected officials, possibly including the governor, will precede Legionnaires from Princeton, Hamilton Township, Trenton and North Trenton, ROTC color guards from Princeton University, Rider and Rutgers also will march, along with firemen from Princeton Hook and Ladder, Mercer Engine Co. No. 3, and Engine Company No. 1, and the West Windsor Fire Company.

STUDENT ASSAULTED

Trenton Pair Charged. Two Trenton residents, Jeremiah Hemmingway Jr., 25 and Wilbur E. Harrington, 27, have been charged with the assault and attempted kidnapping of a Princeton University senior.

After being arraigned Wednesday in Borough court they were taken to Mercer County Jail.

Tanya Kazanjian, the victim, told police later that she was walking on Prospect Avenue around 1:15 a.m. last Wednesday morning when she was approached by a black man who asked for directions to Spruce Street. She replied she was a student and not familiar with the town. The man, whom she described as 5-6, with a slight build and short hair, then caught up to her again and asked where the nearest telephone was. She pointed in the direction of the Woodrow Wilson building.

She told police when she saw he was "putting on some kind of act," she told him that she was sorry she couldn't help him and kept on walking. Then according to her statement, he ran up behind her, grabbed her around the mouth and dragged her into the street.

Forced Into Car. A car with its lights off approached from the opposite direction and she was shoved into the back seat. She screamed. "People are going to hear me hollering," she told the men.

When her assailant looked out the back window to see if anyone was coming, she opened the car door and tried to jump out. She bit her assailant's hand, trying to break free. The driver then turned around, she said, told her to shut up and hit her above the eye with his elbow.

Miss Kazanjian told police she then tried to get out the other door. As she was hanging onto the door, the car started to move but she managed to jump out. She ran across the street toward Ivy Club. Her assailants sped off.

Capt. Theodore Lewis reported that while Miss Kazanjian was unable to give police the license number, she was able to provide an accurate description of the car.

License Number Noted. Earlier in the evening, Proctor Douglas Watson Jr. had noticed a suspicious car on campus without a University sticker. He followed it off campus and wrote down the registration. When told the description of the suspect car, he replied that he had seen it and gave police the registration.

"It was the big break we needed," commented Capt. Lewis. A lookup of the car was obtained and the information passed on to Trenton police. The car was later seen in Trenton and stopped. Borough police went down and picked up the suspects and returned them to Princeton, where they were charged.

In an account of the incident reported in "The Daily Princetonian," Miss Kazanjian complained about the University's handling of the case, while praising that of the Borough police.

She was quoted as saying that Assistant Dean of Student Affairs, Richard M. Segal, had called her without any request on her part. "The first thing they want to do is send me to a psychiatrist," she said.

She claimed she was told by the Student Affairs office that she should not have been alone on the street after dark.

"There's nothing more insulting than first getting your face beaten in and then being told it's your fault," she said.

THEFT REPORT

Blueprints Stolen. In addition to the usual wallets and tape players, this week's list of larcenies on the police docket include this item: 32 graphic blueprints of buildings taken from Room 102 in the Architecture Building on the Princeton University campus. Their value: $150.

"Why would anyone steal blueprints of buildings?" asked Captain Theodore Lewis. There was no forced entry.

A dictating machine worth $383 was taken from a ransacked room in Nassau Hall. Two men were seen running from the building Friday evening around 11 by Princeton Security.

Earlier in the week, a Trenton resident while attending a wedding reception in Prospect House on the campus, told police her beige $125 rain coat was stolen.

Color TV, Plywood, Etc. Between 4 and 9:30 Sunday evening, someone climbed through a kitchen window of an apartment on Clay Street. The thief left through a rear door with a color portable television set valued at $250.

With the cost of plywood as high as it is, someone has been helping himself to half-inch, 4-by-8-foot sheets at a construction site at 316 Mount Lucas Road. Thirty sheets valued at $288 were taken between Thursday and Friday morning.

Lee Paffendorf of Leon N. Weiner & Associates, Inc. of Wilmington, Del. told police that on three other occasions between May 13 and April 30, 25 sheets were taken each time. Value of the 105 sheets is $1,032.

Nancy Keusch of North Brunswick lost $20 when her brown leather wallet was removed from her purse which she had placed on a shelf under a counter at Titles Unlimited in Princeton Shopping Center where she is employed, and Nancy Wilker, 291 Russell Road, lost $7 when her white canvas purse was taken from her car Sunday afternoon while it was parked on Mercer Road by Battlefield Park.

She told police as she approached her car, she saw a yellow car with a black top, which had been parked near her car, speed away. It was occupied by two men.

RESCUE CHIEF ELECTED: Mark E. Freda, a five-year veteran of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad, has been elected president by the group's senior leaders. He will serve the remainder of the term of former president Mike Stachowicz, who resigned for business reasons. An employee of Princeton University, Mr. Freda attends Mercer County Community College, majoring in business management. (Richard Speedy Photo)

Lost Car Keys a Problem. A black leather wallet containing $97, credit cards and three keys was stolen during the night from a car while it was parked last week in front of the home of the owner, Timothy Sheehan, 216 Russell Road.

An American Express card was found later in the roadway by the railway station on University Place. The car has electric door locks which cannot be operated without a key, police were told.

A motorcycle valued at $200 was stolen from Lot 20 in the University campus. The owner, Bruce Boehler of the Biology Department, Princeton University, told police he hadn't locked it because the rear axle was broken.

S. Sutton Hamilton listed the theft of a 1978 motorcycle from his unlocked garage at 141 Dodds Lane between 9 Saturday night and 8 Sunday morning. It was recovered two hours later in a wooded area between Dodds and Terhune Road. Still missing: his helmet valued at $75 and $10 gloves.

A 15-year old Township girl reported the theft Sunday of the rear wheel of her bicycle which she had left at the Community Park Tennis Courts, where she works.

Earlier in the month, a student at Princeton Day School reported her father's $250 35mm camera, which she had taken to school and placed in her locker, had been stolen. Her locker had a combination lock but police said there was no sign of forced entry.

There were three larcenies of items from parked cars.

Chris Kennan of Trenton, his unlocked car parked in front of 13 Ober Road between 10 p.m. and 12:30 a.m., lost a grey tweed sport coat ($100); his wallet containing $10 and a checkbook on the 1st National Bank of Central Jersey containing about 20 checks.

From the front seat of a car parked in the Unitarian Church lot, a thief took a $125 tape player which was later found in a trash can inside the church. The owner was a Lakewood resident.

A CB radio worth $90 and a metal tool box were taken from a car parked last week in a Graduate College lot. A vent window had been broken to enter the car and police said the glove compartment had also been ransacked.

The theft was reported by Barbara Pike of the Graduate College, who told police she was selling the car for a friend in California.

HEALTH INSPECTIONS Of Eating Places. In the past month, six food establishments were tabbed with the "Conditional" rating by Princeton Board of Health inspectors and later brought that rating up to the "Satisfactory" rating which is the highest the board can give.

The six are the Alchemist and Barrister, 28 Witherspoon; Andy's Tavern, 244 Alexander; Cenerino's, 57 Leigh; Mike's Tavern, Bayard Lane; Nassau Inn; Witherspoon Lodge, 124-26 Birch. All have now received "Satisfactory."

Those receiving "Satisfactory" ratings initially, are: Student Center, Princeton University; Charles W. Robinson American Legion Post, 26 Leigh; Conte's, Witherspoon Street; Corinthian Square Club, 30 Maclean.

Princeton University Graduate College; Institute for Advanced Study; Italian-American Sportsman's Club, Terhune Road; Ivy Inn, 248 Nassau; Knights of Columbus, 111 Prospect; McCarter (Theatre) Associates.

Pink Elephant, 252 Nassau; Pretty Brook Tennis Club; Princeton Inn College; Prospect Association, Princeton University; Rosso's Cafe and Bar, 16 Spring; Princeton University Undergraduate Dining Halls (Commons); Wilcox Hall.

THREE ARRESTED

After Terrace Club Entry. Three Princeton men, all residing at 246 Nassau Street, have been charged with the May 7 larceny of a bag of cookies and some bread from the kitchen of Terrace Club on Washington Road. The items were valued at $5.

They are Drew A. Curtis and Rahill M. Rahill 3d, both 21, and James Collins, 22. A fourth occupant at 246 Nassau, Gary H. Shilling, 20, was arrested Friday afternoon by Det. Gerald Patterson and charged with the attempted larceny from a refrigerator at Terrace Club last Wednesday. He was turned over to West Windsor police who wanted Shilling in default of $80 bail on a motor vehicle charge.

The other three were released, pending their appearance in Borough court.

Gregory M. Bullock, 27, 191 John Street, was arrested Monday morning and charged with a May 9 larceny at Smith's Bookbinding, 150 Witherspoon Street. Police report $28 was taken that day from a cash drawer.

Richard E. Merchak, 22, 1409 Hunters Glen, Plainboro, and Robert Homeijer, 23, of Boonton, have been arrested and charged with possession of under 25 grams of marijuana.

They were in a car that was observed going 46 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone on Nassau Street at 1:20 Saturday morning and was stopped on the Princeton-Kingston Road by Ptl. Randy Sutton.

Homeijer, the driver, was also given a ticket for speeding. Both were later released.

Charged with Drunk Driving. Robert G. Cottrell, 29, 804 Fox Run Road, Plainsboro, has been charged with drunken driving after he was arrested following a high-speed chase early Friday morning.

Cottrell was allegedly observed around 2:10 a.m. speeding on Nassau Street near Tulane without headlights. He continued up Nassau Street with Sutton in pursuit and turned right on Harrison.

He raced down the middle of Harrison at speeds up to 60 miles an hour and increased his speed over the Harrison Street bridge, police said. He lost control of his car rounding a curve, went through a wire fence and came to rest 500 feet into a wooded area.

Pool to Open Saturday

The Community Park Pool will open at noon on Saturday.

Applications for membership are available at the Recreation Department in the Valley Road School; the Public Library; Township Hall and Borough Hall.

The Recreation Department will have seasonal memberships available at the pool during the first three weekends of the season. Only checks will be accepted for such memberships purchased at the pool complex. Princeton Borough and Princeton Township residents are eligible for membership to the Community Park Pool Complex.

Last week, James P. Mastroen, 23, of Coulton,

Calif., was arrested on the University campus.

He was turned over to Borough police who charged him with possession of under 25 grams of marijuana. After being issued a summons signed by Ptl. John Holcombe, he was released.

TEST LEAK CHARGED

In ETS Lawsuit. Because a woman in Englewood may have used an unauthorized version of the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) to tutor students taking the national college entrance exam earlier this month, the Educational Testing Service may have to invalidate the scores of some students.

In a lawsuit filed in United States District Court in Newark, the Princeton testing organization charged that a woman identified as Marsha Lawrence of Englewood obtained copies of a SAT test administered in April, 1976, and used it as a practice examination for students she was preparing for the test this month. ETS - produced tests normally are returned to the organization after they are used and are not made public.

"It is critical that the SATs be administered in a way which gives no unfair advantage to any person or group of persons taking the tests," said Russell W. Martin Jr., assistant treasurer of ETS.

ETS spokesman John Smith added that "only a relatively small number of students are involved" in the case. ETS will not release the names of the schools or the students involved.

VANDALS VISIT SCHOOL

Over Weekend. Vandals broke into the Johnson Park School during the weekend and ransacked a kindergarten room.

A hole was broken through a five-foot window on the side of the room enabling the vandal to unlock the door. Books and papers were strewn about the room, police said. A typewriter was damaged.

A fire extinguisher was removed from the wall and the words "Kid Flash" written on an exterior door. Nothing was reported missing. The damage was discovered Monday morning.

Bedroom Windows Broken.

Two windows of a Maclean Circle home were broken early last week.

A 3-by-7-foot plate glass window and a smaller window of an upstairs bedroom were broken, police believe, by two chipped marbles which were later found on an outside deck. No replacement costs were given.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Mary T. Krimmel, 67, of 339 Hamilton Avenue, died May 19 in the Medical Center after a brief illness. She was organist and choir director of the Nassau Presbyterian Church and a member of the faculty at Westminster Choir College, where she had served since 1937.

Born in Dayton, Ohio, Mrs. Krimmel attended the Dutch Reform Church there, becoming its organist at the age of 15. She was also a cellist and had played with the Dayton Symphony Orchestra.

Mrs. Krimmel attended the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and Ithaca College before coming here to join the Westminster faculty. She had sang with such well-known conductors as Leopold Stokowsky, Arthur Toscanini and Bruno Walter and had studied with James Copeland, Parvin Titus and Carl Weinrich. Mrs. Krimmel was a member of the American Guild of Organists.

Westminster bestowed a Master of Humane Letters degree on Mrs. Krimmel in 1962. Earlier this month, the college's Alumni Association presented her with its Alumni Merit Award.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Norma Vining of Nova Scotia; a twin brother, James R. Taylor of Orange, Calif.; and four grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held this Wednesday at 8 at Nassau Presbyterian Church, preceded by an organ prelude at 7:30. Burial will be in Princeton Cemetery, under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Contributions may be made to the church's Memorial Fund.

Robert S. Shaw, 69, a former resident of 185 Carter Road who had moved four years ago to Crestwood Village, Whiting, died May 19 at Community Memorial Hospital, Toms River. Born in West Lafayette, O., he was a former chief engineer and assistant director of the New Jersey Division of Environmental Health, Clean Air and Water.

Mr. Shaw had been a New Jersey Civil Service employee for most of his life and had also been a licensed professional engineer associated with a consulting firm in New York. He graduated in 1930 from Princeton University and later earned a degree in public health administration from Columbia.

Mr. Shaw was a member of the United Methodist Church of Princeton and had served on a number of its boards. He was the recipient of numerous citations in his field for professional accomplishments and held several memberships in honorary societies.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Vaughn Shaw; two daughters, Mrs. Barbara Grasso of Trenton and Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson of Toms River; two brothers, Henry L. Hiver, of Lancaster, Pa., and Walter K. of Minneapolis; three sisters, Mrs. Marie Harney of Trenton, Miss Margaret Shaw of Rockville, Md., and Mrs. Winifred Proctor of Holten, Kan.; and five grandchildren.

The funeral was held in Whiting. Contributions in his memory may be made to the Whiting First Aid Squad or to a charity of one's choice.

Miss Anna E. Larkin, 74, of 66 William Street, died May 18 at her home. She was a lifelong resident of Princeton.

A bookkeeper for Prudential Life Insurance in Princeton for more than 20 years, Miss Larkin was a member of St. Paul's Hosary and the Altar Society of St. Paul's Church.

A graveside service was held in Ewing Church Cemetery, the Rev. Robert Beringer, pastor of the First

Mary L. Griep of East Windsor.

A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated at St. Paul's, with burial in the parish cemetery under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Philip Chiofalo, 80, of Opossum Road, Skillman, died May 18 in Princeton Medical Center.

He had retired from Herben Frocks of New York in 1961 as a dressmaker, after having been associated with the firm for half a century. He then worked as a tailor at Bamberger's in the Princeton Shopping Center for five years and, until 1975, had been the center's Santa Claus each December. Mr. Chiofalo held membership in the International Ladies Garment Workers, Local 89.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rose Campisi Chiofalo; a daughter, Mrs. Betsy Servis of Skillman and three grandchildren.

A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated at St. Paul's Church, with interment in Rocky Hill Cemetery under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Theodore C. Veefkind, 79, who had moved from Hopewell Township to Clearwater, Fla., died there on May 4. He was born in Veefkind, Wis., and had for many years been purchasing agent for Rockwell International in Hopewell.

He was a member of Hopewell Lodge No. 155, F & AM; the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite Valley of Trenton and the Clearwater Country Club. He was a past director and honorary member of the Hopewell Valley Golf Club.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Veefkind; a daughter, Barbara Wittig of Lawrenceville; and a sister, Mrs. Marie V. Palmer of Bethesda, Md.

A graveside service was held in Ewing Church Cemetery, the Rev. Robert Beringer, pastor of the First United Church of Hopewell, officiating.

Theodore W. Henning, 64, of 222 Shadybrook Lane, died May 22 in the Medical Center.

Born in Bruchsal, Germany, he attended school in Salem, Germany, and in Scotland at the Gordonstown Academy, where he served as Prince Phillip's private tutor.

Mr. Henning came to the United States in 1936 and received his bachelor's degree from the University of Maryland. He served as a first lieutenant for United States Intelligence during World War II and later was employed by Western Electric in Kearny as an administrator.

He is survived by his wife, Peggy; a daughter, Pamela; a son, Theodore; and three sisters, Irmgard Freyer of Germany, Trudi Henning of Arizona, and Ilsa Van Houten of Kentucky.

A memorial service will be held this Thursday at 3 at the Nassau Presbyterian Church. Interment will be in Princeton Cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Mrs. Barbara Lull Rahm, formerly of Princeton, died May 18 in Berkeley, Calif. A concert violinist in this country and Europe, she had been a member of the Princeton Music Club and was for many years concertmaster of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

Her survivors are two sons, Michael L. of Riverside, Calif.; and Richard G. of Arlington, Va.; and a brother, Arthur S. Lull of Oakland, Calif.

Contributions in her memory may be made to the Barbara Lull Scholarship Fund at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, 1201 Ortega Street, San Francisco, Calif., 94112.

Mrs. Marie K. Rogers, formerly of New York, died May 21 in the Foothill Nursing Home, Neshanic, after a long illness. Wife of the late Allen M. Rogers, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Katherine R. Cameron of Princeton; two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

A graveside service and interment will be in Kensico Cemetery, Valhalla, N.Y. Arrangements are under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home. Memorial Contributions may be made to a charity of the donor's choice.

Joshua W. Schkolnick, 8, son of Leon J. and Marjorie Schkolnick of 87 Randall Road, died May 21 in the North Jersey Training School, Totowa. A sister, Lisa, also survives.

The funeral and interment were private, under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home. Contributions may be made to the Mercer County Chapter of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children, Trenton, or to a charity of the donor's choice.

Harry L. Townsend, Jr., 64, of Federal City Road, Hopewell Township, died May 21 in Helene Fuld Hospital, Trenton, following a long illness. Born in Trenton, he had retired six years ago as a general foreman of the Ternted Division of General Motors.

Survivors are his wife, Jeanne Davenport Townsend; a son, Harry of Trenton; two daughters, Mrs. Pamela J. Cifelli of Princeton and Mrs. Lynn M. Hunt of Pennington; a sister, Mrs. Nelly Dearden of Trenton and four grandchildren.

The service was held at a Trenton funeral home with burial in Ewing Church Cemetery.

GOLD KEYS AWARDED
To PHS Students. The Gold Key Awards, presented to no more than 10 percent of the Princeton High School seniors and no more than five percent of the juniors, were presented last week at the high school.

The award ceremony was highlighted by an appearance by U.S. Senate candidate Bill Bradley, who also spoke at the awards ceremony in 1965, when he was a senior and basketball star at Princeton University.

Nominations for Gold Keys may be made by any student or staff member. The names submitted are screened by a committee consisting of guidance counselors, the school principal, and the assistant principals at Princeton High School. A ballot is drawn up and submitted to staff members and "keyed" seniors honored the previous year.

The 1977-78 PHS seniors to receive keys are Cathy Arcaro, Lucy Baruch, Kim Beasley, Jeanne Casciola, Archer Clark, Stephen Doig, Karim El-Meligi, Mary Gorman, Lucy Iacano, Kate Kansas, Patrick Keenan, Liz Kiegler, Sylvia Lavin, Karen Liu, Rita Lucullo, Paul Lysaker, Michael Mack, Steve Magee, Eric Marton, Sally McEwen, Jonathan Miller, Polly Mitchell, Niels Nielsen, Carol Nordenschild, Bill Olgivie, Adela Pinch, Mary Rosenbluth, Joel Schulman, Marie Sheehan, Barry Turner, Ann Vial, and Steve Wright.

CAR LEAVES ROAD
When Driver Falls Asleep. Thirty minutes into Monday, 20-year old Patti Williamson of Parsippany apparently fell asleep while driving on Route 206 between Arretton Road and Hillside.

Her car veered over the shoulder of the roadway, knocked down several guard rails and shaved off a utility pole before stopping. She sustained lacerations of the face.

Three persons were injured when two cars collided Monday morning in the Terhune-Ewing intersection.

Emma C. DeVilla, 33, of Monmouth was given a summons for failing to stop for the Ewing Street stop sign. Her car struck a car operated by Margaret A. Alexander, 90 Shady Brook Lane, which left 36 feet of skid marks.

Both drivers and a witness told Ptl. David Funk that the DeVilla car did not observe the stop sign.

Mrs. DeVilla and her four-year old son received injuries to their arms and hands, while Mrs. Alexander complained of a hip injury. All were treated at Princeton Medical Center.

There were two accidents last Wednesday afternoon.

Frank L. Swaab, 80, 11 Greenview Avenue, hit a parked car near Guyot Avenue while driving between 15 and 20 miles an hour on Witherspoon Street. He was not injured but his 72-year old passenger sustained face lacerations.

The parked car is owned by Eric Craig, 173 Witherspoon Street. There were no charges.

A charter member of the Penelope Hart Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, she was its regent from 1932 to 1935. Mrs. Randolph was active on behalf of the DAR at the state level in numerous capacities and was its regent for three years starting in 1944. She became the first editor of the New Jersey State DAR Bulletin in 1947, continuing in that position for 15 years.

Mrs. Randolph assisted in the compilation of two books on Mercer and Hunterdon county genealogical records. She was a life - member and former trustee of the William Trent House in Trenton and held membership in the Old Barracks Association, the Mayflower Descendants, Founders and Patriots, Colonial Dames and the Huguenot Society.

Mrs. Randolph was one of the founders of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church in Pennington. She was a former president of the Women's Guild and also served the women's Bazaar Committee and the Sewing Guild.

Edward F. Randolph was her late husband. There are no immediate survivors.

The funeral was held at St. Matthew's Church, the Rev. John Belmont, rector, officiating. Burial was in Ewing Cemetery.

Mrs. Charlotte Brocker, 58, of 12 Carnation Place, Lawrenceville, died May 16 in St. Peter's Hospital, New Brunswick. Born in Germany, she had lived in Lawrenceville for the past 19 years.

Survivors are her husband, Rolf W. Brocker; a daughter, Mrs. Christel Maurizi of Mercerville; five sisters and a brother in Germany; and a granddaughter, Kimberly Maurizi of Mercerville.

The Rev. Norman S. Kindt, of the Lawrence Road Presbyterian Church officiated at the service.

following a collision on Faculty Road between Nancy V. Arcamone, 48, 36 Bear Brook Road, Princeton Junction, and Mark C. Rich, 18, Skillman Road, Skillman.

According to police, the Rich car had slowed and the Arcamone car attempted to pass when the former apparently made a left turn and the cars came together. Mrs. Arcamone was treated at the Medical Center for "moderate" injuries.

Pt. Robert Nielsen ticketed Mrs. Arcamone for improper passing; Mr. Rich for failing to give a proper signal and no license or registration in possession.

"WHAT WONDERFUL WOODS!" CRIED ALICE

Of course, we replied.
Our custom made tables are made of nothing less than the best woods in the forest.

Oaks and walnuts and maples. A full two inches thick, and not a centimeter less. Laminated together to make a butcher block top that's pure prime choice.

What's more, we added, your table can be round or square or rectangular, big or small, tall or short. It can be a coffee table, a dining table, an office table or just a table table. You even have your choice of bases. Leg and apron. Wood pedestal. Chrome pedestal. Trestle or H-slab. Tops and bases are all smoothly sanded and ready to finish in the wink of a mad hatter's eye with oil, varnish or stain. Stop in the first chance you get (perhaps today, right after tea)...and take a look at our tables and all our other fine and wonderful hardwood furniture.

Ptl. Mario Musso, who responded to the 10:39 call, took a rope from his patrol car and aided by some workmen in the area managed to pull the blazing mower from the garage. scorched, as was the paint finish on the hood and fender of a car in the garage. Total damage estimate: $2,835.

There were two car fires last week in the Township.

Early in the week, Ptl. Robert Nielsen used a patrol car extinguisher to snuff out a rear engine fire in a small foreign car owned by Beverly Thaler, 21 Adams Drive. Firemen arrived to saturate the smoldering motor. Mrs. Thaler told police she had just arrived home, after having had some repair work done to the car.

Another engine fire, this in the front of a sports car convertible owned by Edward T. Converse 11 of Trenton, occurred Sunday morning in the parking lot of Princeton House off Herrontown Road.

There was extensive damage to the car's body and engine, according to Ptl. Jerry Offredo. He said that it appeared that an electrical shortage was responsible for the fire.

MENTAL HEALTH LISTED

For Community Discussion. Thomas Blatner, deputy director of the State Division of Mental Health and Hospitals, will show a film and lead a discussion at the annual meeting of the Princeton Area Council of Community Services on Wednesday, May 31, at 7:45 in the Senate Chamber of Whig Hall on the University campus. The public is invited.

The film, "Toward A Caring Community," includes a brief history of the inhumane treatment accorded psychiatric patients from the days of Bedlam through the 1960s.

Responses from the audience will be invited by a panel including Sarah N. Grossman, director of the Mercer County Department of Human Services, and Susan Haikalis, director of Project 22 of the Association for Advancement of the Mentally Handicapped.

Established in 1946, the Princeton Area Council of Community Services is a planning and coordinating agency that serves Cranbury, East Windsor, Griggstown, Hightstown, Kingston, Montgomery, Plainsboro, Princeton, Rocky Hill, West Windsor, and parts of Hopewell, Lawrence and South Brunswick Townships. Eighty human service agencies are currently members of the Council. The Council is supported by the Princeton Area United Community Fund.

YMCA RAISES $13,572

To Improve Its Services. Raymond A. Bowers and Ralph S. Mason, co-chairmen of a fund-raising program for the YMCA, have announced that $13,572 has been received or pledged to help deliver program services in the Princeton area.

The funds raised, along with fees charged to participants and money received from the United Way, are all used for the YMCA operation. More than 30 persons worked on the canvass, among them David Erdman, Tom O'Neil, John Baker, Reeves Hicks, Samuel Mather, Donald Reed, Jack Worthington and Samuel De Turo.

TRIP SCHEDULED

To Garden State Arts Center. The Princeton Recreation Department will sponsor a trip to the Garden State Arts Center on Thursday, June 1.

Those going will see "El Capitan" performed by the Eastern Opera Theatre of New York. The bus will leave Community Park at 10 and Spruce Circle at 10:15.

Any resident of Princeton Borough or Township 60 years or older may register to attend by calling 921-9480. There are only 50 spaces available for this free program, and registration will be on a first-come, first-served basis. Those planning to attend should bring a picnic lunch.

"Music and foreign languages are electives, but nobody treats them as electives — kids take them, as a matter of course. We have 'exposure' courses in typing, home ec., art, wood and metal work. We have a transitional sixth grade for kids with maturity or learning problems — only 20 kids in it — we have state compensatory ed. in math and reading."

"It's the tremendous support parents give their kids, and teachers with a willingness to try things."

Workshop for Teachers. This Wednesday, 22 teachers will complete a ten-week workshop financed by Rider College through a Federal grant. It's a "Learning Style" workshop to expose teachers to the different ways different kids learn.

"There are the regurgitators — kids who just memorize, and give it back to you. You get a kid like that with a teacher who thinks in the abstract, and you've got a clash. We want to match kids' learning styles with teachers."

"Direct teaching"—the kind you have to do in shop or gym, or maybe in math—there's nothing wrong with it. But a mature teaching staff like ours, has the experience to see other aspects of teaching, to do case studies of their own students, involve more of their own personalities and the students' as well.

TOWNHOUSES APPROVED: The McCosh House (recently the property of George Bush) on the Nassau-Merkham corner, will be restored to its 1888 appearance and flanked by ten new townhouses to be built by J. Robert Hillier's Design Interface. The required use variance was granted unanimously last Thursday by the Borough Zoning Board (with one abstention: Theodore Savage, who lives in the neighborhood). The house will be moved ten feet forward and 20 feet east, toward the street corner and will be used as a large residence with apartment. A cobblestone court will run one way behind the house from Wilton to Merkham. Most neighbors at Thursday's hearing approved; objectors have 45 days to file an appeal. Following site-plan and subdivision approval, Design Interface hopes to start work in September.

"Wing" is the word at JW these days, more than 'house,' although there are nine regular and two special 'houses.'"

In A wing is the sixth grade, with kids new to the school after five years in elementary school. In B wing is what Mr. Johnson calls "a junior high," with more structured teaching. In C and D wings he has his 'middle school,' where classrooms are organized, but are, in his words, more innovative and creative, where teachers are more inclined to interweave the disciplines of math, social studies, English.

Planning Ahead. "Next year, I want to emphasize team teaching, interrelating disciplines: using math skills in science and social studies, English skills that can't be separated from any of the rest."

Discipline was once a fighting word at the middle school. Today, a problem is aired with the teacher; then the guidance counselor; then the parents. Only after everything breaks down, is the student "sent to the principal's office."

"Few kids get this far," Mr. Johnson says. "Old-fashioned exclusion, expelling, is the thing you don't want. I tell them about New Jersey law 18A 37-2, relating to 'continued and willful disobedience.' Well, we've only had to suspend seven."

Fighting or profanity to a teacher can get you in trouble. Racial problems?

"We're a harmonious little family. Our 'United Nations' here goes on. Lots of different races. About everybody's right to be respected—I am very strict. And if we can remove all the obstacles that interfere with learning, like behavior and lateness, why, then there's no excuse for not learning!"

LET'S TALK ABOUT

HYDRO-CHEMICAL FEEDING WILL PERK UP WINTER-INJURED EVERGREENS

by Sam deTuro

Erratic winter injury has caused die-back and browning of needles on evergreens. Some of it is traceable to high dessicating winds when the ground was frozen. Other injury may be due to root trouble, poor soil, fluctuating winter temperature or environmental conditions. Rhododendron, Azalea, Laurel, Yew, English Holly and Ivy as well as Boxwood Magnolia and some species of Cedar exhibit this injury.

One quick way of rejuvenating these shrubs and foundation plantings is by invigoration as soon as possible, says Sam deTuro of WOODWINDS. This is the injection of liquid food into the root area, under pressure. Spring growth perks up fast.

Home owners should delay pruning out injured parts of the plants until new growth is well under way. By then it can be determined what branches and areas have been totally killed and which are making a comeback.

TIME A CANKERWORM SPRAY TO THE BLOOM OF DOGWOOD

Cankerworms defoliate and weaken a host of shade trees in Spring. Spray when the first small caterpillars are detected in the tree tops. This is usually when the flowering Dogwood blooms.

When an infestation reaches outbreak form, a second application ten days later is recommended.

NEXT WEEK: How to Eradicate Rhododendron Borers.

IT'S NEW To Us

ROSEDALE MILLS

A Country Store in Town. Rosedale Mills is a nostalgic country store right in the middle of Princeton. About 80 years ago, it was a feed and farm supply store serving the many farms in this area. Today, it retains its country store atmosphere, while furnishing pet foods, supplies and garden needs to a suburban community.

The store is owned by Milton Cranstoun and John Hart, whose grandfather began the business in the late 1800's in Rosedale. The store was sold out of the family in 1944, while Mr. Hart was in the Army, but he and Mr. Cranstoun, a veteran of the Marines, bought it back in 1950. Soon after, the business was relocated to Alexander Street to be near a functioning railroad line, where they could receive large shipments of bulk feed and continue in the tradition of the past.

The small store is crowded with the homely things related to animals, gardens and lawns. Boots, gloves, straw hats, birdhouses, animal nursing bottles, ant traps, horse and dog supplies, garden seeds and tools, lawn care products and equipment mingle together in an order known only to the owners. Across the driveway, the barn, containing sweet-smelling bales of hay, straw, and bagged animal foods, is also home to a half dozen cats and a friendly puppy.

COUNTRY STORE: Rosedale Mills is owned by Milton Cranstoun and John Hart, whose grandfather started the feed and farm supply store in Rosedale, back in the 1800's. Relocated to Alexander Street in Princeton, it is still a country store, retaining its nostalgic charm, while furnishing pet foods, supplies and garden needs to a suburban community.

Horses. A large portion of Rosedale Mills' business revolves around the care and feeding of horses, and the store carries everything for them except saddles. Bridles, halters, leads, blankets, water buckets, vitamins, minerals, wormers, fly sprays, horse and dog supplies, including shampoos, mane and curry combs, hoof nippers, electric or hand clippers, brushes, hoof picks, hoof conditioners are also found on the shelves. Pine shavings, straw and a stay-dry bedding of sugar cane make comfortable beds.

Five different kinds of horse feed are found at the barn-baled hay, complete horse pellets to feed without hay, Omaline diets and Sweetena by Ralston-Purina, and super horse dry feed by Carnation Red Rose. A sweet feed contains molasses, crushed oats, flaked corn, alfalfa, bran, linseed, vitamins and minerals. Borden's "Foal-Lac" is a mare's milk replacement for foals.

Dogs, Cats, Birds. Feeds and supplies are provided for dogs, cats, gerbils, monkeys, rabbits, rats, mice, guinea pigs as well as chickens, geese, ducks and other birds. Sergeant's, Zodiac and Lambert Kay furnish dogs with flea and tick collars, sprays, dips, shampoos, vitamins, minerals and other necessities. Grooming equipment, collars and leashes are also available.

Dog foods include chow and meals by Ralston-Purina, dry food by Wayne, Ken-L Biskits by Quaker Oats, Carnation dry dog food, Mother Hubbard dog biscuits and bones, Science Diets and "Esbilac", a simulated bitch's milk by Borden. Purina and Carnation also make dry cat foods and Rosedale Mills is a distributor for Kal Kan, 100 percent beef, liver or chicken, sold in cans and by the case only. Bagged food for horses, cats, dogs is sold only in 25 lb. or 50 lb. sizes.

The store has redwood bird houses and redwood, Droll Yankee and satellite bird feeders. Fifty tons of wild bird seed mix were sold last winter; sunflower seeds, thistle seeds, and straight grains for chickens, ducks and geese are also offered. Bird seed can be sold by the pound, but is more economical in 25 lb. and 50 lb. bags; a 10 percent discount is offered to senior citizens on bird seed only.

Garden Supplies. A complete line of Ferry Morse and Excel flower and vegetable seeds is stocked and Vaughn's vegetable seeds in 1/2 lb. or 1 lb. sizes offer corn, squash, beans, spinach and peas in quantity, including the dwarf gray sugar peas, so tender and sweet that you eat the pods, too. Bulbs are shown in season - daffodils, crocuses and tulips for fall planting; gladiolas, lilies and begonias for spring; and Amaryllis and paper-white narcissus at Christmas.

Insecticides and fungicides are carried for the homeowner and professional landscaper to use on gardens, lawns, trees, shrubs. Rosedale Mills is licensed to sell chemicals under environmental control, which can only be bought by people who have passed a N.J. state test and have been assigned a sales number for their purchase.

Soil conditioners - inorganic and organic fertilizers, lime, humus, peat moss - and mulches, pine bark and Right Dress (ground up licorice root) are sold in bags or by the half ton, and can be delivered by truck in a five-county area including Somerset, Hunterdon, Mercer, Middlesex and Burlington. The store offers a cash and carry discount on almost everything.

Lawn care products by Scotts and Greenview can be found at Rosedale Mills and also pasture mixes and eighteen different kinds of straight seeds, including Merion Blue, Kentucky blue, Pennlawn, Fescue, Red Fescue, Chewing Fescue. The new rye grasses are excellent lawn starters, as they are fine-textured and will germinate in five to ten days. Ask for Manhattan, Pennfine, Yorktown or N.K. 100.

Rosedale Mills is located at 274 Alexander Street. Store hours are 8-5 Monday through Friday; 8-12 on Saturday. There is also a Rosedale Mills store on Route 31 in Pennington.

CREATIVE CHOICES

At Bath and Boudoir Shop. The Bath and Boudoir Shop is a charming showcase displaying many fashionable selections for bedroom, bath and powder room. Rattan or brass and glass furniture, custom designed towels and shower curtains, elegant accessories, scented candles and soaps, silk flowers, satin art deco pillows and a boutique collection of leisure wear create an ambiance of luxury with finest quality and design. Coordinated groupings around the shop show imaginative use of colors and textures and suggest other pleasing combinations.

Hinda Bernstein and her twin sister, Toba Cone, co-owners, assisted by Hinda's daughter, Carol, strive to provide "the best possible taste with reasonable prices." All items are 15 percent less than the marked retail price. The three are trained in interior design and bring professional judgment and expertise to the coordination of powder room with family room and kitchen or bedroom with master bath.

Dramatic Effects. Mrs. Bernstein has an instinct for putting together unusual combinations of colors for a dramatic effect. Suggest a favorite shade and in an instant she can show you several different ideas, using materials at hand. She feels that the decoration of a bathroom is very important because it is the room that gives guests an intimate look at the home.

Champagne and cognac are new decorator colors, and the shop has coordinated displays showing three variations that create a luxurious look for guests or family. A persian print shower curtain of cognac, royal blue, teal, champagne is coordinated with blue and cognac guest towels, a cognac accent rug and burnt bamboo accessories; a fabric applique showing a wood duck with feathers of teal, green and brown looks striking on champagne towels and shower curtain, blending perfectly with rattan chair and etagere. A champagne antique satin bedspread trimmed with a petit point type braid has matching pillow shams and harmonizes with a cognac moire taffeta shower curtain and champagne velvet towels with cognac and sand borders and monogram.

June - Month of Gifts. June is an important month for gifts - shower, wedding, graduation, hostess and Father's Day - and any of the delightful accessories at Bath and Boudoir would be happily received. Limoges china in lily of the valley, yellow bows or fleur de lis patterns takes the shape of glasses, shell soap dishes, trays and toothbrush holders from $10 - $21 each; the toothbrush holders can also display small bouquets.

Sparkling crystal distinguishes a dinner bell, $15, a plump heart-shaped dish with cover, $12 and a pitcher for beverages or fresh flowers, $20. Clear lucite appears in a wide range of accessories for bedroom or bath from $6 - $40 and the assortment is also shown in 10 colors. A solid brass standing mirror with make-up tray magnifies on one side, shows you life-size on the other; a rectangular mirror with a bamboo patterned brass frame would make an attractive focal point in any room, $55.

Rigaud's soaps and candles scent the air with fragrance from flowers or forest. The candles in glass containers with chrome lids are $10; a loaf of soap is packed with a knife to slice as needed, $15. Satin art deco pillows are sophisticated and fun, as shown by a white satin, green-eyed cat, and square pillow displaying an oriental lady or round pillows with outline-quilted roses or a giant iris. $15 - $38.

Father would enjoy a lucite wine bottle holder and server, $18; a king-sized bath sheet that says "Big Daddy", $30; a fan-shaped inflatable bath pillow to support his head or back while taking a leisurely bath, $7; or a velour robe, one size fits all - $65.

Princeton Regional School HIGHLIGHTS

(The following information was researched and written by members of the Regional Schools PTO Council, and the opinions expressed are not those of TOWN TOPICS.)

THIS IS THE TIME OF YEAR when PTO groups begin to wind down from current activities and begin planning for the coming school year. If you've been interested in reading about what's happening, you might find that being part of the news is an even more fascinating occupation. All the schools have room for people with time, talent, energy, and the desire to see a job well done. The organizations and the schools offer a variety of positions - whether you're a doer, a philosopher, a teacher, a writer, or discussion - oriented. By getting in touch with your school now, you can be a part of next Fall's thinking and planning. And if you are a PTO "alum," you'll be welcomed as an honorary parent at any school. Ideas - old, new, different - and the people to make them work are a basic need in today's schools and parent organizations.

FIELD DAY COMES WITH a carnival flair at CP this Friday, May 26. From 11:00 until 2:30 there will be competitions, a "run for fun" that includes one, two, and three mile options, a cook-out, game booths, fortune-telling, and story-telling. The sports activities will have such catchy names as Pillow-case Race, Clog Race and Walk, Pogo Stix, and Hula Hoop, there will be relays, rope-jumping, and a bike rodeo too. Parents and friends are welcome to visit, to observe, and to take the opportunity to join in the fun by becoming a supervisor. Call Rhone Porter at 921-2319 to add your name to the Helpers' list. If the weather turns inclement the rain-date will be the following Friday, June 2.

THE PRS CHANGE BACK to a central phone system has more to commend it than the ease of getting calls to the right place with a standard number; time and money will be saved too. Since the cost of individual lines and equipment have risen steadily as telephone rates increased, the future outlook was for still higher charges. However, our new system, with a central number (924-5600) servicing hundreds of extensions, will have decreasing rate costs after the initial live-year period of use. Other savings are apparent. Previously, for example, all school-to-school calls bore a local call charge, since this type of call now goes through the PRS system, they are in effect free.

Conference calls linking the various schools are easy to arrange as are transfers from one person or office to another. One line with a Lawrenceville exchange number gives us unlimited service to State and County offices in Trenton - a considerable saving. Municipal liaison committees have already discussed the possibility of local governments joining the system, particularly if and when Princeton Township offices move into the Valley Road building. There are plenty of extensions available, the only problem, says Bill Karch, is "What kind of greeting will the operator give the caller?" Suggestions, anyone?

ON FRIDAY, May 12, the first tri-lingual announcement (English, French, Spanish) was made at JW. It consisted of congratulations to the school choir for their excellent Spring concert.

This will be continued periodically for the remainder of the school year and on a regular basis during 1978-79. Their value, according to foreign language co-ordinator Raymond Hunt, is two-fold: individual students get an opportunity to practice what they are learning, and all students see Foreign Languages as a living, practical means of communication and not just as a school subject.

TEACHER TRAINING, SHARING, growth and development programs have had a number of titles and time slots, here we've called them Wednesday program, RTP (released time program), and Professional days. Discussions by superintendent Paul Houston with administrators, staff and the Board of Education have resulted in a proposal to adapt the former programs to current needs. It takes a bit of magic to make increased time available for both teaching and learning, but that's what the new plans envision.

Adding an entire day at the start of the school year to help staff plan for district-wide, building, and individual growth will be the opening kick-off. Another full day "for staff only" is scheduled for March, but doubles as a snow day in case last winter's weather repeats itself. There will be less need to use every Wednesday for training, development and T and E work, some school weeks will be full weeks of teaching and learning.

Conference dates are being revised to make this Fall and Spring cycle complete within the report-card issuing week, this change will affect only the elementary and middle schools.

Finally, there will be opportunities for parents, community members, and area agencies to join with students and faculty in workshops, seminars, and studies as the planning progresses - and everyone grows.

A Journey Through Graveyards Produces Touches of History and Off-Beat Humor

Nancy Eills and Parker Hayden
In search of a peculiar form of irony

Just as people flock to see the living famous, they also gather around graves to ponder the life of a deceased celebrity.

Nancy Eills of Journey's End Lane, a free-lance writer and editor, and Parker Hayden, a Nassau Street attorney and amateur genealogist, discovered a mutual interest in graveyards and have combined their talents to produce an unusual book. "Here Lies America," published this week by Hawthorne Press, is a collection of photographs of epitaphs, graves and touchstones of notable people who have shaped America's heritage with a thumbnail sketch of the life and death of each.

In the course of traipsing through cemeteries around the country, sometimes alone, sometimes together, they gathered over 350 photographs of notable graves. The book was narrowed down to 70, chosen, Mrs. Eills says, "because we liked the way they lived or the way they died."

"We were after a peculiar irony," she adds, such as is shown in the bust of Horace Greeley, the man who made famous the slogan, "Go West Young Man." His bust faces due East. Or the grave of Bat Masterson, the last of the old-time gunfighters of the American West, who is buried in the Bronx.

Saints, Sinners, etc. The authors have grouped their characters according to the guise in which they are remembered in life; saints and sinners, writers and performers, winners and losers. They have included the Siamese twins Chang and Eng Bunker; the five founders of Merrill Lynch Pierce Fenner and Beane; Whistler's father; the inventor of the safety pin; and the appreciative daughter who founded Mother's Day.

In some cases, it was the stone itself, how it was placed or what it said, that attracted them. For instance, the slab marking the grave of George Washington Carver, who taught the South to grow peanuts, sweet potatoes and soybeans, is almost part of the soil. Lizzie Borden is buried at the head of those victims of her axe, Louisa May Alcott's stone is the first in a row of her sisters' graves. Thoreau's headstone says only "HENRY."

Mrs. Eills and Mr. Hayden researched biographies and old newspaper obituaries on microfilm, discovering in the process that the Princeton Public Library is "a gem of a library" for a small town. They talked to ministers, undertakers and caretakers of cemeteries. The arrestingly clear photographs, the lively writing and an off-beat type face for the headlines all combine to make this book not in the least bit macabre, but the commentary on American culture and customs that they intended.

—Barbara L. Johnson

She began her career at ETS in 1962 in the College Board Guidance Services and Admissions Testing Program and has also served as a program director and as a senior program director for development in College Board Programs.

Linda Bassett, an Ithaca College junior, was a key contributor to the women's lacrosse team this spring. A first team attacker, she was Ithaca's fourth leading scorer with 12 goals and five assists for 17 points.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton H. Bassett of 73 Harriet Drive, she is a 1975 graduate of Princeton High School and is majoring in Planned Studies at Ithaca.

Russell H. Mullen of Hopewell has been named assistant commissioner for highways by Transportation Commissioner Louis J. Gambaccini. Mr. Mullen, 53, had been serving as acting commissioner.

Steven G. Magee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Magee of 51 Mason Drive, is the recipient of a four-year National Merit Scholarship financed by a grant from Cyanamid.

Magee is a senior at Princeton High School, where he is president of the school choir, a member of the varsity cross-country team, and first clarinet in the school band. He played the lead in the school musical, is an Eagle Scout and Senior Patrol Leader of a scout troop. Magee plans to study engineering.

Each of the corporate-sponsored four-year Merit Scholarships is worth between $1,000 and $6,000 over the undergraduate years of college. The annual stipend accompanying such a scholarship is determined on an individual basis, taking into account the financial situation of the winner's family and the cost of attending the college chosen.

Lester Stephens of Witherspoon Street has been named a recipient of the Hackney Award for greatest individual achievement at the fourth annual fund-raising dinner of the Association for the Advancement of the Mentally Handicapped. County Executive Arthur Sypek addressed the group.

The association, which began operating in Princeton in 1975, was formed by a group of parents of mentally handicapped adults. It now works with more than 200 clients throughout Mercer County. Royce N. Flippin Jr., director of athletics at Princeton University, is president of the agency's board.

The Board of Trustees of the Lawrenceville School has named Peter O. Lawson - Johnston of Carter Road a charter trustee. Mr. Lawson - Johnston is president of the S.R. Guggenheim Foundation and is a 1945 graduate of the Lawrenceville School.

Name the little boy in our radio commercials and win a $100 Savings Account!

People tell us that the Little Boy we use in our radio commercials has charm, realism and a sophisticated sense of comedy. They ask us all kinds of questions about him. And they tell us how they picture him, how old they think he is and what his name might be.

On every radio commercial he has a different name. So many in fact, that we want you to give him a permanent name or a nickname, and we will be offering a $100.00 reward for the best name created by you. Five runners-up will also be chosen and they'll receive $25 Savings Accounts.

In case you haven't heard our Little Boy commercials yet, listen to them on WHWH (1350 AM) between 7:15 AM and 7 PM, WPST (97.5 FM) between 9 AM and 10 AM, or WBRW (1170 AM) at approximately 7 AM and 5:30 PM. Then name our Little Boy. But hurry... he's waiting! You know how it is... when you're cute, lots of people want to know your name.

For Those Who Play the Market, Public Library Has a Wealth of Facts, Figures and Forecasts

If you're a do-it-yourself investor, the best investment you could make might be a quarter in a library parking meter.

Inside the Princeton Public Library, in a quiet alcove behind the card catalogue, is the Business Corner. Have you been paying $1,000 to subscribe to the three sections of the Standard and Poor Stock Report series? S & P has a special package deal for libraries, and for that same $1,000, Princeton's library gets the three sections of the stock report series -- plus the S. & P. Corporation Records, Weekly Dividend Record, Bond Guide, Stock Guide, Statistical Service and Fixed Income Investor.

It's all yours. Draw a comfortable desk chair up to the big Business Corner table, or sit in the black leather lounge chair, and make a million.

The Business Corner has just added a subscription to the Wall Street Transcript and five parts of the Standard Rate and Data Series (consumer and business magazines, spot radio, television, newspaper rates and data).

S. & P. and Moody's are in a stiff competitive battle for the library market, ".....and we benefit," grins Eric Greenfeldt, head of the Adult Information Department for the Princeton library.

"For example, we had to let our subscription to the Fixed Income Investor lapse -- it was just too expensive. But S. & P.

Need to Know More?

If, although it seems unlikely, there is a question which can't be answered in the business reference books in Princeton's Public Library, the library has another source.

A call to the Business and Technology Library of the Trenton Public Library will usually provide the answer. The library can also get photocopies of articles in magazines through the statewide Business Periodical Index covering more than 100 business publications.

Eric Greenfeldt, head of Adult Information for the Princeton library, keeps count of the kinds of questions that have to be answered from the outside. If there are enough alike, a new reference volume may be added to Princeton's own collection.

came up with this package deal, and we've re-instated it. The package arrangement means we pay about half the regular rate."

In Steady Use. Business reference works are used by Princeton residents at a constant and constantly increasing pace. A businessman who had to drop his own subscriptions to financial publications comes into the Business Corner two and three times a week. Individual investors pore through the two-inch - thick Directory of Corporate Affiliations, which lists parent companies, all their subsidiaries and the divisions within the subsidiaries.

A file of annual reports and pamphlets from all Princeton-based corporations is here, used regularly by job-hunters who want to impress the director of personnel

There's Dun and Bradstreet: the Middle Market Directory, Million Dollar Directory and Reference Book of Corporate Managements. MacRae's Bluebook of U.S. Manufacturers; Moody's Bond Record, Bond Survey, Dividend Record, Handbook of Common Stocks; Value Line.

Everything is up-to-date: quarterly publications, monthly issues, irregularly scheduled updates like Wiesenberger's Investment Companies publication on mutual funds.

25 Business Magazines. "Every year for the last five, there's been an increase in the number of people using these reference books," says Mr. Greenfeldt, thumbing a copy of Black Enterprise magazine. "We've got some 25 business magazines, all in a special rack here in the Business Corner. And many publications on minority business, like this magazine, and the nationwide Director of Minority Business, by geographic location and product."

The New Jersey Administrative Code was acquired a year ago. Its 30 volumes detail the implementation of various pieces of state legislation, like regulations setting up the new Department of Corrections.

Checking the prices of stock on the last trading date of the year has had a certain IRS importance, and library clients will find the Wall Street Journal back one year; Barron's, Business Week, Dun's Review, Forbes and Fortune to 1970 -- and the complete New York Times on microfilm all the way back to 1854.

Telephone Directories, Too. "We answer a lot of questions by looking at the Yellow Pages in out-of-town telephone books," Mr. Greenfeldt says. "We have telephone directories for 125 of the top cities in the country. Through an agreement we have with the phone company, these are constantly up-dated."

The Dun and Bradstreet Million Dollar Directory is one of the most popular of the library's business books. It lists firms with sales of one million or more.

"I remember one woman who came in every day for a week and stayed all day," Mr. Greenfeldt recalls. "She worked over that directory, I suppose taking names, addresses, products, sales. The directory cost us $125, but in terms of the number of questions we answer from it and the number of people who use it, it's the cheapest book we ever bought."

THE CHASES THRIVE

In Reversed Roles. In 1970 Gloria Chase was projects manager for MetaSystems Corporation, a highly regarded computer consulting company with customers across the United States. Her husband, James L. Chase, was president of the company.

Three years ago, the couple's employer-employee situation reversed itself when Jim joined the staff of his wife's newly opened real estate agency. The arrangement has worked well for both and Jim remains an integral part of the Chase Agency today.

"Gloria went out on her own, got her sales license, got the experience necessary for her brokers license, incorporated herself, borrowed the money and in May of 1975 opened The Chase Agency -- in the worst year for real estate in recent history, with an 18-month-old baby at home and while four months pregnant," Jim recalls.

With the Chases, it was not really a question of sex or formal role reversal. "I was good at running a computer company, Gloria's better at real estate -- it's as simple as that," Jim says.

CHASE TO REALTY WORLD: Gloria S. Chase, president of the Chase Agency in Pennington, takes the occasion of her firm's third anniversary to announce its affiliation with Realty World, the international network of independent real estate brokers. The network offers an owner-buyer home protection plan, a nationwide referral service, a nationally distributed listing magazine, and the assistance of experts in all areas of real estate. The Chase Agency maintains offices at 65 South Main Street in the Pennington Professional Center.

Gloria's agency, now celebrating its third anniversary in Pennington, has grown steadily since its opening, now employs 18 licensed salespersons, and recently announced its affiliation with Realty World, a nationwide network of independent real estate brokers.

Hard At First. "It's a long way from computer language design and dealing with the Department of Defense," says Mrs. Chase. "There's not one of us geared to 'selling' in the traditional sense. Instead, our approach has been to offer service for both buyers and sellers; a no pressure approach of working with individuals on a person to person basis."

About the reversal of traditional roles that her business has brought about, Gloria says that in the beginning it was hard for her to assume the complete direction of the agency.

"Jim was great about accepting the change after ten years of his being the 'owner and director' and in the early going he often insisted that I make decisions when I might have been happy to duck out from under," she says.

Gloria normally works "a chaotic schedule, seven days a week with hopeless hours" running the office, writing the contracts, placing advertising, and presenting proposals to clients. Jim frequently cares for the couple's Pennington home and their two young sons, 4-year-old Kevin and 2-year-old Brian.

The Better Cook. "To me, there's no difference in presenting an important offer or getting a good lunch together for Kevin or Brian -- whichever of us can best handle either at any given time just does it," Jim says.

Both Gloria and Jim readily admit that their arrangement has not always been easy for either to handle and that it certainly wouldn't work for everyone. "Because of our situation, we find ourselves talking to many couples about changing lifestyles and responsibilities and it's clear that working together as we do requires a special understanding and recognition of the capabilities of each," Gloria says.

Jim adds: "I had to accept the fact that Gloria is now indeed the boss and Gloria has had to accept the now proven fact that I'm the better cook!"

The Clergy's Effectiveness Evaluated

Ann Douglas, in her recent book, "The Feminization of American Culture," compares the social status, and social effectiveness, of American women and American Clergy in the late 18th and early 19th centuries. Her conclusion is that both groups were widely respected — and just as widely ignored. After Disestablishment, when churches and clergy were no longer supported by the town coffers and had to raise their own funds, the clergy found it to be more circumspect to temper the courage of their convictions with the wisdom of practicality. The clergyman's salary became directly proportionate to the degree to which he did not alienate his congregation. The clergy became, to use Douglas's term, "feminized," that is, powerless.

Of course, the clergy are not really powerless, without the ability to affect. The Berringer brothers were hardly powerless, without the ability to affect. The Berringer brothers were hardly powerless in this sense, nor was Martin Luther King. It seems that, in the present era, the clergyman's effectiveness is directly related to his or her personal priorities. If the prestigious pulpit and the corporate-level salary have high priority, then caution would dictate a temperate style.

Douglas also points out, however, that the clergy became ineffectual, not only because they became financially dependent, but also because their secularized congregations, and the public in general, assumed that they had nothing to say about the real world. Why this assumption?

Perhaps, to be fair to the congregations, it was because the clergy were not, in fact, saying much about the real world. With some notable exceptions, American religion, and its religious leaders, have become pietistic, in-bred, narrowly moralistic, and largely irrelevant to the real world in which ordinary people must beat their way through a jungle of confusions, contradictions, and ambiguities.

The clergy have become socially invisible and unheard beyond their own half-filled pews. There are no Fosdicks and Holmer's thundering from their pulpits, no Berringers, no Kings. With the invisibility of the clergy comes the invisibility of the synagogues and churches. A vicious circle. Nothing relevant to the real world to say. Nobody bothering to listen. The clergy busy themselves with busyness or suffer the depression of walking anachronisms.

The laity (curious term) might say, "Well, why don't you clergy-types just go out and get a real job?" Many do; thousands every year in fact. But many, like myself, continue to believe that the religious institution may be the only bulwark left against social insanity and dehumanization. We still think there are things from which humanity needs to be saved.

The clergy, however, are dependent on their congregations. They must depend, not only on their own courage, but on yours. If they are leaders in any sense at all in our era, they are leaders by the authority of their constituents. Like politicians, they can only take the people where the people want to go.

If the religious institutions of our society are to exert the influence that lies dormant, the clergy cannot go it alone, voices lost in the wind. The religious institutions can make a difference in this town and in this nation. If the clergy are not to fall sick and die, like captive pets, it is up to you, the people, to let them know that you want to be part of a relevant institution, effective and influential in the real world.

MINISTER HONORED

At Lutheran Convention. The Rev. E. Theodore Bachman of Princeton Junction, former editor of "Lutheran World" magazine, was honored for 40 years of service in the ministry by the New Jersey Synod of the Lutheran Church in America. The Rev. Mr. Bachman was cited last week at the 17th annual convention of the church in Ocean City.

He edited the quarterly publication of the Lutheran Church in America's Board of Theological Education.

In other convention business, Joseph Gonzalez, a member of the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in West Windsor, was one of lay persons elected to three-year terms on the executive board of the synod. Mr. Gonzalez is executive director for the minority in the New Jersey State Assembly.

The New Jersey Synod consists of 173 congregations with a total membership of more than 91,000.

FUND APPEAL MADE

For Rhodesian College. The Reverend Dr. Jacob Ndlovu, a native of Rhodesia and an alumnus of both Princeton and Rutgers University, will preach this Sunday at Nassau Presbyterian Church. With an enrollment of 450 students preparing to become teachers, and the capacity for a total of 600, it is the largest of its kind in Rhodesia.

Dr. Ndlovu is in this country for a few weeks in an effort to raise money to assist 120 of his students who cannot afford the fees because their families have been disrupted by the war going on in that country. Each student needs $400 in U.S. money.

Contributions may be sent to the Reverend Blain Aldridge, Nassau Presbyterian Church, 61 Nassau Street, earmarked for the United College of Education, preferably to reach him by this Friday.

"Dr. Ndlovu brings the message of concern and Christian involvement in the turmoil, and convictions about the future," commented a church spokesman.

OPEN HOUSE SCHEDULED

At Beth Chaim. Membership coffees and open house services are two of the highlights in the current membership drive being conducted by Congregation Beth Chaim, Village Road, West Windsor. Several evening coffees will be held in May and June to acquaint prospective members with the Congregation.

Rabbi Eric Wisnia and members of Beth Chaim's executive board will be present to answer questions.

A special Open House service will be conducted at the Temple on this Friday evening at 8:30. The open house Sabbath service will be one of the monthly family services, initiated by Rabbi Wisnia, and geared to appeal to congregants of all ages, but especially children. Congregation Beth Chaim is a reform congregation founded in 1971 with a membership of over 200 families.

All prospective members interested in learning about Congregation Beth Chaim are invited to attend the open house Sabbath and the coffees. Additional information can be obtained from the Temple at 799-9401.

BIBLE SCHOOL PLANNED

At Westerly Road Church. School vacations are on the way and the Vacation Bible School at Westerly Road Church, 37 Westerly Road, is not far behind. Good times and Christian living principles are shared by children from Kindergarten through 8th grade.

Two sessions will be offered this year: Session I, June 5-9, will run from 9:30 to 11:30 each day. This session is for children ages 4 and those entering kindergarten in September.

Session II, June 26 - 30, will run from 9:30 to 1:45 each day, and includes children entering grades 1 through 8 in September.

Children in Session II are to bring their lunch. Beverages and snacks will be provided. Pre-register in order to insure space by calling the church anytime at 924-3816. If transportation is needed, please note that at pre-registration, and the church will try to provide transportation.

In conjunction with Session I, Mrs. Joyce Clutz will guide a Bible class for mothers and other interested women. The women's class will meet 9:45 - 11:15 each day. A nursery for younger children will be provided. Pre-registration for the women's class is also encouraged.

School activities include Bible lessons, games, singing, handcrafts and missionary stories, all geared to the various age levels. Parents night will be Friday, June 30. All parents are invited to see and hear reports of their children's Vacation Bible School activities.

BULLETIN NOTES

Nassau Presbyterian Church will offer Vacation Church School for grades 1 - 6 on Sundays through June at 10 (during worship services) and Monday - Friday, June 26 - 30, from 9:30 to 12:30. The musical "Sam," the story of "The Good Samaritan," which will provide the theme for this session, will be presented Friday evening, June 30, and Sunday morning, July 2.

For registration forms, contact Jean Tindall at the church, 924-0103. Registration fee is $1. For additional information, telephone Marcia Wood (921-2890) or Helen Wise (452-1553).

Fox & Lazo reveals House Traps
Selling "as is"

Few houses are in perfect condition when they're put up for sale. But many could command a much higher price with a little ingenuity.

At Fox & Lazo, we'll suggest a paint job here. A repair there. And you'd be amazed at the difference in selling price.

Fox & Lazo - the largest Real Estate Broker in South Jersey - is now serving the Princeton area.

We've been in business since 1886.

And we're going to break our backs to give you service. We put service to our clients ahead of the almighty dollar. That's how we keep you out of house traps.

(And that's how we sold almost
1,500 houses last year.)

For a free copy of our booklet on how to avoid 9 costly house traps, tear out the coupon below. Or better still, stop by our office at 54 Princeton Hightstown Road. Ask for Jack Burke or one of his sales associates. Or phone 799-2022.

INTRODUCING THE SERVICES REFERRAL SERVICE AN AUDREY SHORT, INC. EXCLUSIVE.

When you move into a new neighborhood it can be difficult finding the people you need to make your house a home. Let's face it, knowing where to find a good plumber or a dependable repairman can be very reassuring. Well, that's where we can help.

We've established the Princeton area's first Services Referral Service. We maintain a complete up-to-date listing of reputable professionals for every possible home service you would need. And it's at your disposal anytime.

So whenever a service problem arises, or you would like to know where to shop for that hard-to-find item - the name of a good French restaurant, a family physician. From answering services to zipper repairs. Literally, any service your family could need in the Princeton area is at your disposal through our Services.

Referral Service. Just call us at 921 9222. We'll be able to recommend the problem-solver nearest your home.

It's nice to have someone you can depend on. And you can depend on us.

A COMPLETE REAL ESTATE ORGANIZATION

AND BACK

Small and cozy, you'll think, until you see all the living space this attractive Cape Cod has. The entrance foyer is large and welcoming; the living room has a brick-wall fireplace that's truly unique, and large sliding glass doors to the flagstone patio. The dining room has a charming window seat, and a door to the brick patio. The family room, with its warm panelling, is lined with bookcases and storage. The large, country-style kitchen has an eat-in area beside the fireplace, a center island, a planning desk and more. There are three bedrooms, including the master bedroom, and two baths. The house is designed for comfortable living and entertaining – inside and out.

$128,500

This wonderfully comfortable multi-level house is on a beautiful lot on a dead-end street in East Windsor with lovely landscaping and many natural trees. Entrance foyer, family room with sliding glass door to back yard, a powder room, and a laundry room are on the entrance level. On the middle level are the living room, dining room and eat-in kitchen. Upstairs are 3 bedrooms and a hall bath, while in the lowest level are 2 small bedrooms and a bath. It's a lot of house in a pretty area, for only

$70,500

Hoping for a comfortable house in a lovely and quiet part of Lawrence Township? Need a house convenient for commuting via Route 1 or Route 206? Wish you had good schools for your young children? Come see our ideal listing in Nassau II! You'll find a formal living room and formal dining room, a delightful family room, eat-in kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 2½ baths, lots of extras, and a beautifully private back terrace. We'll enjoy showing you this gem!

$76,000

If you appreciate style and attractive, well-planned houses, you must see this ranch in the Stony Brook section of Princeton Township. The lovely lines of the house and roof are accentuated by the partly-brick exterior. From the warm and gracious entrance hall, the attractive living room with its beautiful marble fireplace will draw your interest. There is a formal dining room, a comfortable family room, an eat-in kitchen, 5 bedrooms, and 2½ baths. The grounds may remind you of a park, except that you can eat the asparagus and swim in the pool. We have to whisper that the new price is $149,000 – see this house quickly!

This lovely ranch-style house is perfect for a couple who enjoy entertaining with graciousness. The spacious living room has a fireplace and two picture windows with window seats. The library has a handsome stone floor, another fireplace, mahogany panelling, built-in bookcases, and three picture windows. To round out your entertaining pleasures, there is a large patio leading to a beautiful pool. The setting is priceless: the entrancing Tall Timbers area. But descriptions are not enough – this house must be seen to be fully appreciated.

SURPRISES AWAIT YOU

You'd never guess that down the walkway is an exceptional architect designed addition that makes this house a special place to call home. A dramatic living room with cathedral ceiling and clerestory windows (and fireplace, of course) is perfect for entertaining. A versatile formal dining room with cathedral ceiling is separated from the living room by a massive natural oak wall, and has access through glass doors to a neat deck. The completely modern gourmet kitchen with lots of extra storage adjoins the family room. The bedroom wing consists of a master suite with Scandinavian style natural wood bath, and three other comfortable bedrooms and a full family bath. See it now by calling your Firestone agent.

NOTICE

In compliance with a ruling of the State Supreme Court, all newspapers must ascertain that employment ads do not discriminate between sexes. For example, titles such as "Salesman," "Nurse" and "Girl Friday," should be replaced, respectively, by "Salesperson," "Nurse (M/W)" and "General Office Work M/W". TOWN TOPICS has a copy of the Division of Civil Rights booklet, "A Guide for Employers to the New Jersey Law against Discrimination," and will provide assistance in the wording of all such ads upon request. Advertisers' cooperation is sought in meeting the requirements of the law.

Degrees and Diplomas for Residents of This Area

Residents of the Princeton area are receiving diplomas and degrees from educational institutions throughout the country, many of them at traditional spring-time graduation ceremonies.

Seven area residents are among 22 Lawrenceville School seniors selected to graduate with academic distinction on June 3. They will be honored at a dinner this Thursday at the school.

They include Jack A. Laschever, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. Frederick Laschever of 39 Scott Lane; Evan M. Lee, son of Dr. and Mrs. Leung Lee of 1028 Mercer Road; Brereton Bruce Semple, son of Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Semple of 264 Dodds Lane; and Thomas C. Wexler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Wexler of 100 Clover Lane.

Also A. Maximilian Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie L. Holmes of Leif Erickson Avenue, Griggstown; Kendall S. Harmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Stuart Harmon of Manning Lane, Lawrenceville; and Lawrence E. Leibowitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leibowitz of Glenn Avenue, Lawrenceville.

Three Princeton residents were among 515 graduating seniors at Skidmore College in Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

They are Cynthia E. Blum of 228 Brookstone Drive, who received a B.A. degree in geology; Diana T. Lewis, of 13 Newlin Road, a B.A. in sociology and social work; and Roberta S. Shapiro, 320 Prospect Avenue, a B.S. in art.

Laurie LaPlaca, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard LaPlaca of 29 Cleveland Lane, and Sara Mead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Mead of 25 Philip Drive, were among the 150 women who received associate degrees from Pine Manor College in Chestnut Hill, Mass.

Adele Smith Simmons, former dean of student affairs

TRIPLE CONGRATULATIONS: Dr. Gerson D. Cohen, left, chancellor of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, congratulates Neil Kurshan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeome Kurshan of 73 Random Road, at the seminary's 84th annual commencement. Rabbi Kurshan, who received his bachelor's degree from Princeton University and a doctorate in education from Harvard University, was ordained as rabbi, preacher and teacher.

at Princeton University and now president of Hampshire College, delivered the keynote address on "Men and Women in the 1980's."

John W. Byers, son of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Byers Jr. of 45 Audubon Lane, received his bachelor's degree from the University of Vermont. He majored in natural resources and will be employed at the Columbia Plywood Company in Newport, Vermont.

Dennis Alexander was a member of the graduating class at the 111th Lincoln College commencement. The son of Mrs. Dorothy Alexander, 16 Mulberry Row, Dennis also was named to the Dean's List for maintaining at least a 3.0 grade point average.

A private, two-year institution 30 miles north of Springfield, Illinois, Lincoln College is the only school still in existence named for Abraham Lincoln during his lifetime.

Gerard K. O'Neill, professor of physics at Princeton and proponent of space colonization, has been awarded an honorary doctor of science degree in ceremonies at Swarthmore College. Dr. O'Neill, author of "The High Frontier: Human Colonies in Space," earned his undergraduate degree at Swarthmore in 1950.

An honorary doctor of science degree was awarded to Frank C. Shoemaker, of 361 Walnut Lane, by Whitman College of Walla Walla, Washington. Dr. Shoemaker, a 1943 graduate of Walla Walla, is principal investigator in the high energy physics group at Princeton University.

John Westefeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Westefeld, of 39 Rollingmead, received his Ph.D. at the commencement of the University of North Carolina, at Chapel Hill. His special field of interest is Counseling Psychology, which he plans to teach and practice with university students. Currently he is engaged in a teaching internship at Georgia State University in Atlanta.

Rider College will honor composer Roger Sessions, 63 Stanworth Lane, at its 113th commencement on Sunday, June 4. He will receive an honorary Doctor of Arts degree during ceremonies on the college's Academic Quadrangle.

Clare Baxter was awarded a bachelor of arts degree in speech and dramatic arts by Longwood College in Farmville, Va. She is the daughter

Ten Double-Feature Programs to Be Offered By Summer Cinema '78 during Second Season

Summer Cinema '78 will return to air - conditioned Kresge Auditorium on Washington Road this summer for a ten - week season of double - feature film programs under the joint auspices of McCarter Theatre Company and the Arts Council of Princeton. Nineteen features by Fellini, Bergman, Altman, Kubrick, Truffaut, Chaplin, Coppola and other directors from this country and abroad will comprise the ten weekly programs, each of which will have live showings, Wednesday through Sunday evenings.

Summer Cinema '78 will open on Wednesday, June 21, with a double - bill composed of Luis Bunuel's surrealist comedy "The Discreet Charm of the Bourgeoisie," winner of the 1972 Oscar as Best Foreign Film, and "Shampoo," Hal Ashby's comedy of contemporary Hollywood mores and morals, starring Warren Beatty as George, male hairdresser to the stars.

David Hemmings and Vanessa Redgrave, will be paired with "The Conversation," Francis Ford Coppola's 1974 hit starring Gene Hackman as a master wire - tapper who unwittingly becomes a servant of his own craft.

"Cowboy" in Fall. An uncult version of John Schlesinger's "Midnight Cowboy," (1969) with Jon Voight and Dustin Hoffman as Joe Buck and Ratso Rizzo, one of the cinema's oddest couples, will be shown together with Frank Perry's "Rancho DeLuxe," a 1975 comedy featuring Sam Waterston and Jeff Bridges as a pair of spaced - out contemporary cattle rustlers.

Other "Summer Cinema '78" pairings will include Jack

Summer Cinema's final program will have only one feature, because of its length: Stanley Kubrick's "Barry Lyndon," a three - hour long, epic vision of the 19th century on which the director of such classics as "2001" and "A Clockwork Orange" spent more than three years working. Ryan O'Neal stars in the title role, a character based on Thackeray's novel about a rags - to - riches rogue.

A limited number of Summer Cinema '78 discount coupon books priced at $17.50 and offering savings of one - third over single admission prices are now available at McCarter Theatre box office or by mail. They contain ten discount coupons, each good for one admission to each of the ten double - bill programs. Single admission ($2.75) will also be available at the door, subject to availability of seating.

News Of The THEATRES

Nicholson's raucous triumph as Navy Signalman Buddusky in Hal Ashby's "The Last Detail," which will accompany Bertrand Blier's French sexual comedy "Going Places," which follows the exploits of two outrageous drifters played by Gerard Depardieu and Patrick Dewaere. Ingmar Bergman's 1972 masterpiece "Cries and Whispers," his first color film in which he explores the relationship among three sisters and their housekeeper, will be shown with "Women in Love," Ken Russell's 1970 adaptation of the D.H. Lawrence tale of two sisters struggling against the confines of a rural English mining town.

SECOND HELPING
Of "Chile" From Triangle. Triangle Club elected officers last week and marked time for Reunion Week-end repeats of its 89th musical, "Chile Today, Guacamole."

Performances will be Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3 at 8:30 p.m. in McCarter Theatre. Tickets at the box-office, 921-8700.

Creigh Duncan, a sophomore at Princeton this year, has been elected secretary of Triangle. A Princeton native and daughter of Stuart and Petie Duncan, Ms. Duncan has worked at Theatre Intime, where her mother has frequently acted, served as stage manager for Triangle's fall production of "Godspell," which her father originally produced, worked as production secretary for a movie her father produced Coming of age will be the subject of another "Summer Cinema" program, comprising "Amarcord," Fellini's reminiscence of his youth in a small town in fascist Italy; and "The Go - Between" (1971), a Joseph Losey - Harold Pinter collaboration starring Julie Christie and Alan Bates in a story of casual cruelty and innocent love set in turn - of - the - century England. Another double - bill will focus upon the private eye: "The Long Goodbye," Robert Altman's 1973 adaptation of the 1935 Raymond Chandler novel with Elliott Gould as a latter day Philip Marlow; and "The Late Show," a little - seen 1977 film which pairs Art Carney as a burnt - out, over - the - hill private detective and Lily Tomlin as a Los Angeles "kook" who is involved in everything from psychoanalysis to dealing.

NEW SEASON AHEAD: Liz Fillo and Dan Berkowitz, veterans of the Inn Cabaret, other familiar faces and some new ones will provide weekly entertainment when the Inn Cabaret's summer season begins on June 15.

moved to the Prince William Room, which seats over 200, and has played 33 weeks there in the past three years. This summer, for the first time, the Cabaret is expanding from its usual Friday - night - only program and will include an early show on Thursdays as well.

Although the Cabaret has not performed at the Inn since last summer, it has been busy entertaining at a number of conventions and private parties, and performing for four weeks at the George Street Playhouse in New Brunswick.

Director Dan Berkowitz, musical director Roo Brown, and choreographer Joan

Lucas report that this summer will be the best season so far. Auditions were held in April, and several new faces will be joining the old favorites.

Already lined up to perform this summer are Suzie Bertin, Joe Bolster, Roo Brown, Timothy Brown, Leila Cannon, Harry Clark, Diana Crane, Carole Davis, Julie Denny, Moy Eng, Liz Fillo, Georgine Freedman, Ray Gross, Meg Guilfooy, Kim and Reginald Harris, Michael, Johnnie and Billy Hill, T. Harding Jones, Derry Light, Susie McCabe, Rita McDowell, Brent Monahan and Caroline Moseley.

Although the basic format will remain the same -- a new show each week, with a different cast performing musical and comedy numbers -- the staff is preparing a few "surprises", including much more original comedy material. "We found that what people like most is the original stuff, something they can't see anywhere else," said Berkowitz. "So we decided to start planning a little earlier than usual and give our writers a chance to get some material done in advance. We've got a nice little pile of scripts already, and it's getting bigger every day!"

Tickets for all shows are $4 and bar service is available throughout the performance. Reservations are recommended, and can be made by calling 924-3727 starting on the Monday before each show.

MEXICO REVIEWED
Through Newsreels, Amnesty International and the Princeton University Latin American Studies Program will present a film of newsreels on the Mexican Revolution Thursday at 8 in room 1 of the Woodrow Wilson School.

The film, "Memories of a Mexican," was compiled by the owner of the first movie theater in Mexico City and was edited by his daughter. It includes first-hand close-ups of the major events and personalities in the Revolution.

Carloe Fuentes, author of "Where the Air Is Clear" and "The Death of Artemio Cruz," will comment on the film. A donation will be requested for the benefit of Amnesty International's work for the release of prisoners of conscience.

MUSIC

In Princeton

PULL OUT THE STOPS!

For Chapel Organ Recital. Greg Smith, a graduating senior and Princeton University Organist, claims that if you haven't heard the Chapel organ played full blast you haven't really lived in Princeton. The organ, a 120-stop pipe organ built by Aeolian Skinner in 1930 and rebuilt under the supervision of Carl Weinrich in 1954, is the largest instrument in central New Jersey.

"Put that together with the Chapel's vast echoing interior and you have an incredible setup for great organ music," says Mr. Smith.

He will play a recital at the Chapel on Sunday, June 4, at 7. The first half of the program will feature English and French Baroque music; the second half 19th and 20th century music.

The program will conclude with "Litanies" by Jehan Alain, the most popular piece in the 20th century organ repertoire. "Litanies" exemplifies the jazz rhythms and harmonies popular in Paris in the first part of this century and calls for the use of the organ at full volume. "It will shake you out of your seat," promises Mr. Smith.

CONCERT JULY 2

N.J. Symphony Coming Here. A mobile sound stage given to the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation of Princeton will be dedicated when the orchestra plays here on Sunday, July 2. The concert will be given on the athletic fields east of Palmer Stadium.

The Symphony's appearance here is one of 13 scheduled throughout the state. More than 100,000 people are expected to attend the concerts during a span of three weeks.

The mobile sound stage will be used in nine of the locations chosen for the concerts, with Princeton to be the first. It is currently under construction in Minnesota, being built and designed by the same firms responsible for the outdoor concert facilities of the New York Philharmonic and the Metropolitan Opera. The loud-speaker system itself, contained in a 40-foot trailer unit, elevates to a height of over 50 feet, and will be capable of projecting music to an audience in the tens of

The July 2 concert will begin at 7:30 and is being billed as a gala dedication for the sound stage. Thomas Michalak will conduct the Symphony, with Mary Costa, soprano, the soloist.

The event is being sponsored by the Princeton Chapter of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra League, the Princeton Youth Fund and the YWCA. Ticket information and additional details will be announced shortly.

CIRCUS SHOWS LISTED

At Shopping Center. Jack McCarthy III of the Chamber of Commerce has announced that the Great American Circus is coming to Princeton on Thursday, June 29, at the Princeton Shopping Center.

The Great American Circus is a traditional show appearing under a big top. There are no reserved seats, so spectators may sit anywhere in the tent. This circus opens in Florida in early April and tours 200 towns and cities in the United States before returning to Miami in late October.

Two stars that shine in the Great American elephant herd are Myrtle, the largest performing elephant in the world, and Baby Betty, a youngster that children can see and touch. Trained goats, performing canines, and the Gorilla Fantasy also are featured under the big top.

Summer Sounds to Return

Summer Sounds, the free community concerts provided in recent years for Princetonians of all ages, will be offered again in July and August.

Suggestions for pleasant outdoor locations, for preferred types of musical entertainment, and the names of performing groups should be sent to Summer Sounds, c/o Denise King, Recreation Department, Township Hall, Princeton.

Musical groups interested in performing should also write to Ms. King.

The program includes two all-girl aerial ballets and two new trapeze thrillers. One comedy trapeze act gives members of the audience a chance to participate.

Performances are at 4 and 8. Buy advance tickets at the Chamber of Commerce Office, 44 Nassau Street.

LIBRARY OFFERS FILM

On Homosexual Theme. The Mary Jacobs Library in Rocky Hill will present a British film entitled "The Naked Civil Servant" on Thursday, June 1 at 7:30. This drama is based on the life of Quentin Crisp, an effeminate homosexual, who, in the face of prejudice and antagonism, remained true to his lifestyle and managed to salvage dignity for himself.

The film is 90 minutes long, in color and recommended for adults. The program is free and open to the public. For further information, call the library at 924-7073.

WYETH WORK DISPLAYED
 At Stuart School, Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart will display a collection of landscape paintings by John Allan Wyeth Jr. of Providence, R.I., on permanent exhibition at the Berkshire Museum in Pittsfield, Massachusetts.

It is hoped that this tour, the first trip to Washington this year, will interest numerous Princeton area residents. The charter bus will leave the Princeton Shopping Center (Acme side) at 11 a.m. En route a stop is planned at Havre de Grace for luncheon. Participants will be able to go through the new East wing, or revisit the old wings of the Gallery before they assemble to see the Dresden show at 6:30. The tour will leave Washington no later than 7:45 p.m. for an 11-11:30 arrival time back in Princeton. Cost for the trip is $17 for members and $18 for non-members, including admissions, transportation, gratuities, snack pack and donation. Reservations may be made through the PAA at 921-9173. Mrs. Heinz Heinemann is tour chairman.

A number of the works on view are on loan from private collections. The subjects range from islands in the Aegean Sea to views of Chartres, Mont St. Michel, Rome, Paris, the Gulf of Tigullio, and scenes of the revolutionary bridge at Princeton, as well as local woodlands in New Jersey. The exhibition will open with a reception in the main entrance of Stuart. The public is invited to view these works and to meet the artist.

PORCELAIN ON VIEW
 At Bainbridge House. The Historical Society has opened a new exhibit at Bainbridge House, 158 Nassau Street, which presents a collection of Chinese export porcelain loaned by many area owners. The exhibit will be on view through the summer.

AREA ARTISTS TAPPED
 By Senator Williams. Five artists from the Princeton area are among the 23 New Jerseyans whose works have been selected for exhibit in the Washington office of Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr. They include E. Berry Jones and Constance Bracci - McIndoe of Hopewell, and Hsiano - Lan Ch'en Mote, Susan Kittredge, and Martha Otis Wright of Princeton. The exhibit will be at the senator's office for two months before beginning a state-wide tour. Ms. Jones, a clay artist who is a faculty fellow at Princeton University, is represented by a tall stoneware piece displayed on the senator's mantle.

Chinese export porcelain is the general name for all porcelain made in China for the European market, between the 16th and 19th centuries, and sometimes for American customers after the late 18th century. Dinner services, vases, bowls, tea sets and many other items were generally copied from Western models in shape and in the painted decorations. A great many of the early plates show the coats of arms of families who ordered sets of "china" for their personal use.

The exhibit shows mainly pieces from the Ch'ien Lung period, 1736-95. The earliest pieces, however, are a pair of small Ming dishes of the Wan Li period, about 1610, and there are also some 19th century porcelains, such as various designs of the Rose Medallion pattern. Of special interest are a porcelain basket from the Boudinot family collection, loaned by the University Art Museum, and a punch bowl made for the clipper "Empress of China", on loan from the New Jersey State Museum. There is also a small saucer made for Thomas Jefferson, decorated with a helmet and shield containing his initials in gold, which may have been used in the White House.

WASHINGTON TRIP SET
 By Art Association. "The Splendor of Dresden: Five Centuries of Art Collection," a show that has been in preparation for several years at the National Gallery in Washington, will be a feature of the Friday, June 16, tour by the Princeton Art Association.

The Art Association will be one of the selected groups to have an evening viewing of this exhibition, the first comprehensive loan exhibit to illustrate the history of art collecting. The focus is on Dresden's 500-year history of acquiring rare and beautiful objects. Included among the more than 700 works will be old master paintings and drawings, such as Titian's "Portrait of a Lady in White," Renaissance and baroque bronzes, rare oriental porcelain and wares from the famous Meissen factories, antique sculpture as well as 19th and 20th century paintings and posters by German romantic and expressionist painters. Not only will tour participants be able to see the loan exhibit from the German Democratic Republic, but they will also have time to tour the National Gallery's East building, which opens on June 1.

Clubs and Organizations

The Women's College Club has announced its 1978 Scholarship Awards:

The Anniversary Award to Rosemary Mazurek of the Hun School, who is planning to go to Georgetown School of Foreign Service in Washington, D.C.

The Memorial Award to Catherine Ferrante of Princeton Day School, who plans to go to Harvard.

The Founders' Award to Lucy Iacono of Princeton High School, who will go to Vassar.

The 1978 Award goes to these students: Sabrina Barton, Princeton Day School, Oberlin; Doris Bittler, Stuart 77, Dickinson; Jane Bennett, Stuart, Princeton; Jane Lewis, Princeton High School, Bowdoin; Alouette Kluge, Princeton High School, Harvard; and Yoland Kennedy, Princeton High School, American University.

New officers of the Vassar Club of Central New Jersey are vice-president, Elaine Jancourt; secretary, Margaret Lantz; benefit chairman, Alice Carter; and nominating committee, Louise Bachelder. Continuing in office are Ruth Wilson, president; Mary Nord, treasurer; and Susan Klein and Teddi Wei, alumni admissions chairmen.

The third annual greenhouse tour raised more than $1,000 for the benefit of scholarship students. Ten freshmen from this area will attend Vassar in the fall.

The Princeton YWCA International Club will hold a dance on Saturday from 9 to 1 at the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill and State Road. Entertainment featuring original folk-rock songs will be provided by N. Charles Leeder. A donation of $1 is requested.

The West Windsor Lions Club is planning a barge trip on Saturday evening, June 24. This event will be held on the canal in New Hope with two barges pulled by mules. The trip will run from New

Hope to a picnic area for supper and entertainment and then the pleasant trip home. The cost is $6, which includes all the beer you can drink. Reservations may be made by calling Lew Coleman at 799-0978.

Princeton Hadassah will meet this Wednesday 8:15 at the Jewish Center. The evening's program, entitled "Come Fly With Us to Israel," features Israeli dances, performed by the Parparim, the Senior Judea Dance Group of Highland Park.

Former Hadassah president JoAnne Carchman will introduce the following new officers: President, Anne Lowe; V. P. Fundraising, Anne Kahn and Adrienne Friedman; V.P. Program, Judy Leopold; V.P. Membership, Sharon Tarter and Diane Friedman; Treasurer, Carol Pollard; Recording Secretary, Arlene Lewis; Financial Secretary, Nancy Schenkel; and Corresponding Secretary, Susan Grossman.

The Israeli Update, a 60-second current events commentary about Israel, is presented by Jeanne Leiman. The hostesses are Fran Engler, Anne Ginsberg, Bette Kohen, Florence Nathan, and Nancy Schenkel.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday at 8 at the squad house. Anne Goeke will preside.

The Vanderbilt Club will host a seminar and picnic Saturday at the Princeton Inn College. Alumni, friends, and current and prospective students in the central New Jersey area are invited to attend all events: seminar at 4, followed by picnic supper at 5:30 and student discussion on Vanderbilt life at 7.

Vereen Bell, associate professor of English at Vanderbilt, will lead the seminar on "Writing -- An English Teacher's View", assisted by Roy Blount, a 1963 graduate now a contributor to Esquire and Sports Illustrated. For further details on the picnic or seminar, call club president Mettie Fisher at 921-2146.

Officers of the Rocky Hill Community Group elected for the coming year are Linda Eveleigh, president; Mary Hayden, first vice-president; Anita Pettibone, second vice-president; Al Vuocolo, treasurer; and Carol Boozer, secretary. New board members were elected, and committee appointments: classes -- Janet Sykes and EFFECTIVE JUNE 1.

Earn U.S. Treasury Bill Interest Rates with a First National State FIRST RATE Six-Month Savings Certificate.

With First National State's new FirstRate Six Month Savings Certificate you can earn an interest rate equal to the six-month U.S. Treasury Bill rate in effect at the time you purchase the certificate.

Which means savers with a minimum of $10,000 can earn a higher rate of interest in a six month period of time than ever before at First National State. For example, on May 15, 1978 the rate was 7.014%.

On top of that your money is only invested for 6 months at a time. Then you may renew your certificate (again at the prevailing six-month Treasury Bill rate) or withdraw your money without any penalty.*

To take advantage of this exciting new money-earning opportunity fill out and mail the coupon to us with your check. Or stop in at any First National State office and purchase your certificate in person.

*If the funds are withdrawn before maturity, Federal regulations require that the interest rate be lowered to the then current passbook rate and that 90 days' interest at that rate be forfeited.

As the State's largest commercial bank, we're sure to have an office near you. And you're sure to be dollars ahead six months from now.

Mail to: First National State Bank of Central Jersey, Dept. FR,
891 Brunswick Avenue, Trenton, NJ 08638

Enclosed is my check for $_____ (minimum $10,000)

Please issue in my name and at the address listed below, a First National State FirstRate Six-Month Savings Certificate (dated June 1, 1978 or later). I understand that the interest rate of the FirstRate Certificate will be equal to the rate of six-month U.S. Treasury Bills auctioned immediately prior to the date of issue.

"There's nothing small-time about small-town banking."

John Hoff,
President of
The First National Bank of Princeton

"A small-town approach to banking means being in touch with the community and the people you serve. And that takes a big-time commitment, a full-time commitment."

"As president of First National and a Princeton resident, I extend my banking hours by working for as many local civic organizations as possible—from the Medical Center of Princeton to McCarter Theatre. And I'm especially proud of the active role our people play in local community affairs. We believe that's the only way to really understand our customers. And to provide the full personal service that's so important—but, unfortunately, so rare—in this day and age."

"Personal service is, no doubt, a major reason for the huge success of our YES PLUS® program. YES PLUS responds to your everyday personal banking needs with many fine services including free checking with a cash reserve, free telephone transfers, loan discounts and much more. But, more important, YES PLUS gives you your own personal banker... someone who knows you by name... one person to turn to with all your banking problems. That's what we call small-town, full service banking. That's what I mean when I say we're truly a people-oriented bank. But don't misunderstand: small town doesn't mean small bank. As a member of one of New Jersey's largest banking organizations—United Jersey Banks—we have total resources in excess of $2.3 billion!

"I think our small-town personal banking approach makes a tremendous difference—a difference you'll sense the moment you walk in the door. Stop by soon and see how we've put an end to banking anonymous!"

It's amazing how often the number 4 occurs in Hank Aaron's career ... Aaron's uniform number was 44 ... He broke Babe Ruth's home run record in the 4th inning of the 4th game of the season, in the 4th month of the year (April) ... The pitcher he hit that historic homer against (Al Downing) also wore 44 on his uniform ... Aaron was batting 4th in the lineup ... 4 times in his career he hit exactly 44 homers in a season, and so it goes.

Did you know that the new manager of the San Diego Padres, Roger Craig, once set a record in reverse? ... When Craig was a pitcher in the big leagues, he once lost 18 games in a row—the most losses in a row by any pitcher in the history of the National League.

+++

Can you name the only 2 brothers ever to win the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race? ... They are Bobby Unser who won it in 1968 and 1975, and Al Unser who won it in 1970 and 1971.

Would you gamble $218 to receive $24,000? A woman age 35, with our loss of income policy, could receive $1000 a month for two years if she were disabled.

PHS Nine Tops Keyport and St. Anthony's, Making Current Season Its Best Since '62

"This is the nicest thing that's happened to me," said Princeton High School baseball coach Jim O'Neill Friday, after his Little Tigers had defeated Keyport, 3-0, in the opening round of the Central Jersey Group 2 NJSIAA state competition.

That good feeling persisted when PHS topped visiting St. Anthony's, 8-6, Monday to raise its record to 9-5 and stay in competition with Notre Dame for Colonial Valley Conference honors.

For 16 seasons, Princeton High has had to say "wait 'til next year." Its last winning spring was 1962, when it won 10 and lost 9. That's why this year's success has been so gratifying, especially to O'Neill.

One can turn his remark above around and say the nicest thing that has happened is that it took Jim O'Neill off the hook. He started his first season four years ago full of expectation, saying this was something he had always wanted to do.

In his first three years, PHS won a total of nine games. "When you're losing, you can find a million things that went wrong," he said. No one worked harder at coaching or spent more time at it.

His confidence was so shaken that he had decided if Princeton couldn't win this year he would turn the job over to someone else. "Winning," he said this year, "does great things for you." Win or lose from here on out isn't that important; PHS has finally shaken its can't-win reputation.

Phox Triples. Against St. Anthony, PHS, which had scored in the first inning in 11 of its first 13 games, waited until the second this time. With the bases loaded, Jon Miller singled home one run to tie the game at 1 and Keith Phox followed with a triple to give PHS a 3-1 lead.

The Iron Mikes tied it with a pair in the third, but PHS came right back with two more in the same inning. Al Kandell, who had four of Princeton's 10 hits, singled, advanced on a sacrifice and stole third. A pickoff throw was high, allowing Kandell to trot home. John Rosenthal then tripled home Dave Reed who had walked.

The Little Tigers added three more in the next inning to take a commanding 8-3 lead. Dave Miller, the team's DH, doubled to bring home Phox, who had walked, for one run. It was Miller's second hit.

Kandell's single sent Miller home and, later, Tommy Breithaupt's singled Kandell home. Although he was touched for 14 hits, Matt Kahny went the distance for PHS for his second win. He has one loss.

First Inning Again. When PHS finally got to play Keyport after two postponements, the Little Tigers had been idle for eight days and O'Neill was concerned about the effect the layoff might have. His concern was Newark had a runner on second following a hit and stolen base and with two down Marty Witt singled him home. "They just pushed across one run at the right time," said McQuade.

Wollman struck out eight while nine Hun batters fanned. Each team committed two errors. Newark collected six hits, Hun four -- two by Zaha.

Lawrenceville Wins. The previous day, against Lawrenceville, Hun took itself out of the game early when starter Ken Mott walked eight and hit one batter in the first two innings to give the Larries all their runs. The final score: Lawrenceville 6, Hun 3.

Reliever Keith Duvin limited Lawrenceville to one hit the rest of the way. Hun got a pair back on Tom West's two-run homer in the second and added another run in the third. Hun out-hit Lawrenceville, 6-4.

PHS IS 10-8 VICTOR

In "Must-Win" Lacrosse Game. It was a game the Princeton High School lacrosse team wanted badly -- had to have if it were to be invited to play in the prestigious Coaches Tournament.

The Little Tigers were not denied. They defeated Summit here Friday, 10-8, when, according to PHS coach Bill Cirullo, "the people who had to score for us, did." Only then could he relax.

"We played a tough ball club, but we are the champs. We did it! I feel like a million dollars!"

Once again, Johnny Morris led the PHS attack with three goals and an assist. Three players added two goals each: Doug Firstenberg, who also had three assists for five points; Bobby Campbell and Tom Lion. Lion and Campbell each added an assist, while Chris Cahill had a goal and one assist.

Cirullo singled out the defensive play of Bobby Cooke and goalie Ian Broadwater. The latter, he said, "made short-lived as PHS scored three runs in the first, its favorite inning, and then made them stand up.

PHS backed up starter Keith Phox, who went five and two-thirds innings before tiring, and reliever Kandell, with an air-tight defense. It turned two double plays and missed a third when Breithaupt dropped the ball at first.

"We should have scored more runs but we looked good defensively," agreed O'Neill. "I thought Phox won the game for us. He started to lose his snap and got tired but he kept everything away from them." Phox had baffled the Keyport batters with an assortment of curve balls, change ups and fastballs.

PHS stole five bases in the first off catcher Rich Walker. Jon Miller opened the game with a single between second and short off Keyport hurler Ken Brown. He stole second. Phox walked.

Dave Miller hit a shot to second which Lee Gashlin couldn't handle, Jon Miller scoring on the error. PHS then engineered a double steal to put men on second and third and after Kandell popped to the catcher for the first out, Jamie Robertson's infield hit past the mound scored Phox. He promptly stole second. Reed fanned.

As Brown was pitching to Breithaupt, Dave Miller broke for home. Brown's throw to the plate was low and got by Walker.

The PHS defense kept Keyport at bay until the last inning. With one down, Bob Turowski, the Raiders' DH, doubled down the left field line, and went to third on an error on the throw. Kandell went to 0-3 on John Diamond but then came back to strike him out, the eighth Keyport K.

Kandell walked the next batter on four pitches. He went 3-2 before getting Gashlin to fly out to Phox in right for the final out.

some of the finest stops he's made all year. He's more active in the cage than he's ever been." Broadwater had 15 saves in three periods.

Down 2-1 after the first period, PHS outshot the visitors to take a 4-3 lead at the half. When Summit's Matt Paytas scored with 10 seconds left in the third period, PHS still had an 8-5 lead.

Campbell, who had been sick and was a doubtful starter, made it 9-5 two minutes and 45 seconds into the final period. Observed Cirullo, "You can see where we would have been without his scoring."

Summit, which carried a 7-6 record into the game, refused to roll over, however. Particularly Paytas. Less than a minute after Campbell's goal, he pushed the ball in with his stick in a melee in front of the net. With 4:23 to go, he scored his fourth goal to make it 9-7.

The one who iced it was Cahill, who ironically, had been chastised by Cirullo and taken out of the game for failing to adhere to a set strategy. Just seconds after he went back in, he scored to put PHS up by three with 2:32 left. Paytas' fifth goal with 24 seconds left ended the scoring.

ST. JOHN'S VICTOR

in Baseball Playoffs Here. Pitching depth is usually the decisive factor in baseball, even in a short series, and there was no exception to the rule in the ECAC Tournament held here last weekend. St. John's, the logical favorite, had to beat Cornell in a doubleheader Sunday to advance to the NCAA district playoffs this weekend, but the Redmen's strength on the mound was so marked that they held the losers to two runs in 18 innings. The scores in the twin bill were 2-1 and 10-1.

Last week's prolonged rain washed out Thursday's scheduled action and even postponed the start of play Friday from noon to 3. When St. John's met Richmond on Clarke Field, the nine from Jamaica won, 7-2. At the same time, Cornell was edging Fairleigh Dickinson, 2-1, on Strubing Field.

St. John's needed a two-run, 360-foot homer in the fifth to tie the Virginians, and then added a five-run seventh to wrap matters up. The rally began when the Richmond center fielder slipped twice on the soggy turf trying to backtrack for a ball hit over his head. It fell for a double and the romp went on from there.

Cornell looked as if it would lose its first game because FDU scored the first run in the top of the eighth when the batter tried to duck away from a pitch and the ball dribbled off his bat half way to third, scoring a runner from there. The Ithacans drew even, however, on a leadoff homer over the fence in left in the bottom of the ninth and then added three straight singles to win the game before a man was retired.

Cornell's ability to pull out a victory at the 11th hour continued on Saturday when it trailed St. John's, 4-3, again in the last of the ninth. A walk and two scratch infield hits loaded the bases, with another walk forcing one run across the plate and a hit between second and short then winning the game, 5-4.

Time of Game: 4:08. On Strubing Field, meanwhile, FDU and Richmond had hooked up in a marathon. A run by Richmond on the last of the ninth brought the southerners even, and the goossegs on the freshman diamond's non-existent scoreboard began to proliferate. In the top of the 17th, FDU put its first two men aboard and the coach preferred to have his batter hit away rather than bunt them along.

He paid the price for flaunting the book. A pop up, a strike out and a fly to left followed to retire the side and in the bottom of the round, Richmond made it 3-2 on a single, a sacrifice and a line drive to right center.

The game had lasted four hours and eight minutes. Half an hour later, St. John's added Richmond to the list of dropouts in the double-elimination tournament by trimming it, 2-1, the winning marker crossing the plate on a wild pitch in the seventh.

That set the stage for Sunday's action, which Cornell could have controlled with a victory, since it was the only unbeaten team. But St. John's took both games with fine pitching, adding long-delayed hitting strength in the second contest.

The Redmen will play at Holyoke, Mass., this weekend in a six-team field that will include Harvard, the Eastern League champion. The winner there will compete with seven other NCAA district champions at Omaha, Neb., in the annual College World Series next month.

PRINCETON WINS, 2-1

On Jim Scibetta Goal. Midfielder Jim Scibetta scored last week with just 45 seconds remaining to give the Princeton Tigers, the Princeton Soccer Club's 1964 travelling team, a 2-1 come-from-behind win over Hamilton in Central Jersey Soccer League play.

Hamilton used a crisp passing attack to take a 1-0 lead which stood until Bobby LaForge tied it with two minutes left to play. The victory was gratifying for the Tigers, who had dropped a 2-1 decision to Westport, Connecticut, the day before. Despite an early goal by Dave Massola and stout defensive play by Keith Jones, Dave Wheelock, Chris Peck and Will Perrine, the Princeton club surrendered two second-half goals.

Two other Princeton teams were involved in outside contests. The Jaguars, the senior high squad, fell to Westport, 4-1. Tim Jennings scored the Princeton goal on an assist from Ron Celestin.

The 1966 squad, The Wildcats, put forth their best effort of the season before succumbing to West End, 4-3. Lance Savage continued his fine play in goal, getting strong support from center back Matthew Mack. Brian Fort, Andy Lipman, and Tim McDougald scored for Princeton.

The Princeton Soccer Club also claimed the first girls team ever to represent the community in outside competition in a match against Lawrence-Hamnetts on Sunday. Despite some solid goalkeeping by Stephanie Trock and Barbara Zeitler and the playmaking of Jessie Dresner, the Princeton girls lost a 2-0 decision.

SEMI-FINAL TEST NEXT

For PHS Tennis Team. A 5-0 winner over Metuchen in the quarter-final round of the Central Jersey Group 2 NJSIAA state championship, the Princeton High School tennis team (15-1) will oppose Bernardsville in the semifinals this Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 on the Somerset Community College courts on Route 206.

The top confrontation will feature a battle between the two No. 1 singles players: Scott Clark, 16-0, from Princeton and Steve Tourdo, from Bernardsville, who owns several victories over Clark this past winter. Clark, however, defeated Tourdo last week in a tournament at the Nassau Racquet Club.

PHS, seeded number one, in Central Jersey is the defending Group 2 state champion. It defeated Bernardsville last year, 4-1. If the Little Tigers survive, as expected, coach Joe Diefenbach reports that his team will probably face second-seeded Rumson on Friday for the Central Jersey title.

The four state Group 2 winners—two from Northern New Jersey, Central and Southern—will compete Saturday morning and afternoon at the Princeton University courts for the state championship.

Against Metuchen, Clark won in three sets, 6-3, 3-6, 6-0. Allen Aronovic, the number two singles, kept pace with Clark with a 6-0, 6-0 victory to remain undefeated in 16 matches, and number three singles, Seth Thaler triumphed, 6-4, 6-0.

In doubles play, Peter Wilson and Abe Witonsky won, 6-2, 7-5, while the number two pairing of Larry Edelman and Roger Dinella won 6-1, 6-1. Monday, in a Colonial Valley Conference match, PHS blanked St. Anthony, 5-0.

LITTLE TIGERS SECOND

In CVC Championships. If Princeton High School were to dethrone Hopewell Valley in the second annual Colonial Valley Conference track championships held Saturday at West Windsor, Little Tiger coach Marc Anderson knew he would need some help from the other teams.

He didn't get it but it didn't prevent PHS making a run at the Bulldogs. PHS finished with 66 points, 12 less than Hopewell, which captured six firsts and 78 points. West Windsor was third with 49, followed by Hightstown, Notre Dame, Lawrence and St. Anthony.

Ironically, the meet's only double winner was Princeton High's Mike Fuschini, who did not come out for the sport until his senior year. He won the 100-yard dash in 10.1 and the 220 in 23.1. In addition, he anchored the PHS mile relay team which set a new CVC record of 3:29, bettering last year's 3:33.8, also set by PHS. Andy Logan, Oscar Brown and Rob Wyland ran the first three legs.

John Kellogg won the two-mile event in 10:21.5 and finished third in the mile at 4:41.7. The latter was won by Hopewell Valley's Geoff Noden in 4:37. Hopewell also won the high hurdles, 440, discus and high jump.

Brad Ogilvie set a new record in the 880 of 2:02.3 which was three tenths of a second faster than the time set by Rich Reaves of Hightstown. Princeton's other first came in the pole vault which Bob Ayling won with a vault of 12-3.

Another event where PHS was strong - the long jump - ended up in Hopewell's corner when Newt Stewart set a record of 21-2. Barry Turner, Princeton's fine jumper, had to settle for second place with a 20-10 3/4 effort.

Allentown Overwhelmed. Earlier in the week, PHS overwhelmed Allentown in a dual meet, 106 to 25. PHS won every event but the 220, two-mile and mile relay. Fuschini won the 100 and 440; Turner won the javelin and long jump. Bernie Chen captured the 120-high hurdles and tied Logan for first in the high jump. Mark Knudsen and Bob Ayling tied for first in the vault.

Other first-place winners: Ogilvie in the mile, Logan in the intermediate hurdles, Kellogg in the 880, Paul Hoad in the shot put and Mike King, discus.

PDS NINE IN FINALS
Of State Tourney. The Princeton Day baseball team had a chance this week to win its second straight State Prep title for Division B schools, when it met Wardlaw. The game was played Tuesday afternoon at Princeton University's Strubing Field, too late for coverage in this week's TOWN TOPICS.

Rain forced the cancellation of the regular season meeting between the Panthers and Wardlaw that had been scheduled for early May, but the South Jersey team must be a fairly formidable opponent. In the semi-finals, it managed to upset Pennington and its star pitcher Fred Falchi, 2-0.

Last week's rain didn't allow PDS any outside practice for four days, and wiped out games against Peddie and Morristown - Beard, but the Panthers weren't sitting around complaining. Coach Tom DeVito held several useful sessions in the gym, and when the sun came out the Blue and White was ready.

In the semi-final game against Neumann Prep played on Saturday, PDS batters banged out 16 hits on the way to a 14-1 romp over Neumann. Lou Guarino led the way with four hits, and three RBI's, Jay Nusblatt, Andy Sanford, Frank Piccolella and Tony Dell all had two hits, and Jamie Bartolomei missed a grand slam home run by a step and a half.

His triple cleared the bases in the eight-run sixth inning, but he was thrown out in a close play at the plate trying to stretch it into a home run. Scoring one in the first, and five more in the second, the tally was already 6-1, when the Panthers batted around in the sixth.

Given this much support, Mike Walters had a fairly easy time of it, striking out five and giving up three walks. He is now 5-3 on the season.

Two regular season games remain for the Blue and White. Trenton High on Wednesday and Peddie in a make-up contest on Friday.

PLAYOFFS BEGIN

In Nassau Soccer League. The Nassau Soccer Association '66 Traveling Team last week added two victories to its unbeaten record.

A goal by Todd Heebink provided a 1-0 win over the Hamilton '66 Warriors, and Andy Bing had two goals and Ned Desmond one in leading Nassau to a 3-0 shutout over West End '66.

One of the world's leading diesel car makers
now has a big following.

A lot of people are finally waking up to the advantages of diesel cars. Including Detroit, which is lining up to re-tool its gas cars into diesels.

Well, they're lining up behind Peugeot, because we started building automotive diesel engines fifty years ago.

But why the sudden switch to diesels? Economy. The Peugeot 504 Diesel has the best fuel economy of any compact, 34 mpg highway, 28 mpg city, 30 mpg combined.* And nationally, diesel fuel sells for about 10¢ a gallon less than unleaded regular.†

In addition, you'll never have to pay for a tune-up. Because the 504 Diesel has no points, choke, distributor, carburetor, condenser, coils, resistors or spark plugs.

So it's no wonder that a lot of people are coming to us for diesels. If we were good enough to be a world leader when diesels weren't fashionable, we're certainly good enough to be a world leader when they are.

West End teams proved too strong, however, for other Nassau groups. The '65 team fell to the West End '65 Green Machine, 5-1 (Billy Bushnell scored the lone Nassau goal); the '64 players lost to the West End '64 Rockets, also 5-1, (Paul Curschmann had Nassau's sole tally), and Nassau '63, with goals by Charlie Bolster and Frantz Celestin, was outscored by West End '62 Hornets, 7-2.

At home, Nassau league teams began playoff competition in each league. The Bantams played two sets of games to make up for last week's rainout.

In the first set, Steven Horowitz scored two goals for the Nassau Superstars in their shutout of the Green Machine; Matt Newton's lone goal gave the first-place Blue Stars a victory over the Cosmos; Danny Jones and Britt Eaton provided the tallies for the Nassau Devils over the

384 Compete in Pennington Race

Almost everybody welcomed the first really warm, even hot, weather of the spring last weekend, but the 384 runners competing in the Pennington Run for Fun would have been happy to see temperatures about 20 degrees cooler.

Hot weather and participants of all ages are becoming common at this growing event, now in its second year. Last year 220 entered the one- and five-mile races.

Rich Geisel of Princeton turned in the best time of the day in the five-mile event, finishing in 26 minutes and 13 seconds. Harry Bilicki of Trenton finished second 33 seconds behind him. Third was Paul Shivers of Pennington, who finished in 27 minutes and 15 seconds. Runners were broken down into several age groups with the first three finishers receiving medals.

Trenton State College track and cross country runner Jill Case turned in the best time for women for the second year in a row, 33 minutes, 34 seconds, almost five minutes ahead of the next woman runner, Fairfax Hutter of Princeton finished second in 38 minutes, 12 seconds.

Nathaniel McCray of Trenton won the one-mile run with a time of 5:29. Beth Kopkash of Pennington finished first for the women in 6:15, closely followed by Kitty Ager of Princeton, just two seconds behind.

Other notable times turned in by runners at opposite ends of the age scale, included 36 minutes by Ed Cunnion, 61, of Browns Mills, and eight-year-old Jason Regan of Harbourton, who clocked a respectable 41 minutes, 37 seconds.

Jaguars, Jeff Zawadsky gave the Americans a 1-0 victory over the Tigers, and the Cardinals and Blue Devils played to a scoreless tie.

In the second round, the Superstars defeated the Blue Devils, 5-0; the Nassau Devils blanked the Cosmos, 3-0 (Jeff Howarth scored his first goal in that game); the Blue Stars overwhelmed the Jaguars, 10-0; the Green Machine outscored the Americans, 2-0, and the Cardinals defeated the Tigers 4-1 (goals by Sandy Osborne, Mike Precheur, Kyle Layton, Scott McGoldrick, and Jimmy Scott).

In Cub League playoffs, the Blue Devils defeated the Orange Tigers, 7-3. Kirk Williams led the winners with five goals, and Paul Crystal scored the other two. John Hill, Kipper Large, and Danny Shidlovsky each scored one for the losers.

Mark Nathan and Michael Hunninghake accounted for the three goals scored by the Horrible Hamsters in their shutout over the Dark Greens.

Misplaced Concern.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am writing in response to the March 15 statement from the Concerned Alumni of Princeton regarding the use of illegal drugs on campus.

First of all, I am not denying the existence of drug traffic on campus. Secondly, I do not use drugs generally (legal or illegal) because I believe its indiscriminate use is detrimental to health -- physical and psychological.

However, I am concerned about this problem because as a Christian who has experienced many of the pressures students go through, I know the difficulties in trying to "cope" in a constructive, healthy way.

But I am even more concerned about the attitude shown by the Concerned Alumni of Princeton. I think that their "concern" is not for the well-being of students (who make up the University). Their concern is for their reputation and for their immediate family and friends.

Carolyn L. Drucker was a student who couldn't "cope" and took her own life. Does her death say anything to the Concerned Alumni of Princeton?

To me, it conveyed a sense of urgency of the situation. The solution is not the superficial application of brute force in dealing with the drug problem (which is only a symptom of a bigger malaise). The students need to be shown that they are worthwhile and accepted unconditionally whether they "make it" in school or not.

Don't we all need this unconditional love?! I am privileged to know some students who have found the "abundant life" promised by Christ. They don't need drugs!

Please don't condemn and judge teenage drug-users if you have not stopped smoking, drinking, popping tranquilizers, sleeping pills, ad infinitum because you don't need them anymore! I have faith in the youth of today. With compounding pressures of all kinds in this complex society, it is good to still see some very wonderful young people.

Please show your concern by getting to know them as people.

ACINTA RAYNER
4 Wheeler Way

Wall-to-Wall Walls.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Yes, Mrs. Ritenour, I also think Borough Council should review its decision to put up an 800-car rack by the Library. (TOWN TOPICS, May 17.) I agree with your objections, but my main protest is against the busy cramming of space.

A utilitarian, thing-oriented kind of thinking seems to be in charge, a supposition that space exists to be filled up.

Nassau Street is safe, I hope. As long as the University campus holds and shelters one side, this will be one of the finest main streets anywhere, because the spatial experience is great, as in Siena, Florence and Framingham, Mass. The Palmer Square plan also looks respectable, but otherwise central Princeton is a happening, and if the garage-builders flourish we'll have wall-to-wall walls.

In the March 29 Mailbox I suggested using cemetery space to relieve this very real design crisis. No response; everyone had something to say about the bad-word issue. Now, I propose something else in a last bid to keep space free and human, in-town:

Since this is an international center of architectural services, let Borough Council (or the two Princetons) empanel 20 of our best professionals from many firms to review the "Library garage" and post-Palmer Square design in this town.

I would gladly settle for that.

Chinese Auction a Success.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It indeed gives us great pleasure of thanking "publicly" Town Topics for the great publicity given us; to the wonderful MERCHANTS of Princeton, Rocky Hill, Kingston, Montgomery Center for their generous donations; to the members of the Chapter of Princeton Deborah for their many donations and support and to the committee who worked so diligently to help make our third annual Chinese Auction such a tremendous success.

We are so grateful to each and everyone of you for making this event go "over-the-top". Thank you for "caring."
